HORRIBLE TALE.

Mrs. Nack Tells of the Guldensuppe Murder.

Enticed the Man to the Woodside Cottage

Where Thorne Was Lying in Wait for Him.

Sent Her Victim In and Heard the Fatal Shot.

Carried the Dead Man's Clothes From the House

While Her Accomplice in the Crime Bore the Head of Guldensuppe Away and Dropped it in the River.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The startling announcement in the morning papers that Mrs. Nack had confessed the murder of William Guldensuppe and implicated her lover, Martin Thorn, was confirmed when court was assembled by Judge A. A. Weller, who is assisting District Attorney Youngs in the prosecution. Thorn's lawyers were very reticent on the subject, but when Judge Weller was questioned on the truth of the rumor by an Associated Press reporter he replied:

"Yes, she has; there is no doubt about it."

"Will she be produced in court today as a witness?"

"That I can't say; you had best see the district attorney."

Lawyer William F. Howe arrived at the court house at a quarter to 9 o'clock. He was met at the entrance by a representative of the Associated Press.

"Is it a fact, Mr. Howe, that Mrs. Nack has made a confession?" he was asked.

"I don't know," he replied, with a shake of his massive frame. Then he continued: "All I do know is the news I received from Mr. Friend last night. Thank God," he exclaimed with dramatic fervor, "I never did such a thing, and I have been practicing for thirty-five years."

"Did what, Mr. Howe?" asked the reporter.

For a moment the big lawyer looked bored, and then he roared so that all within 100 feet of him could have heard:

"Allow a client to confess against whom there was absolutely no testimony."

Judge Smith accompanied by District Attorney Walter Jay Cox of Suffolk county, took his seat on the bench when the hour for opening court arrived. The twelve jurymen then took their places in the jury box, and Thorn, handcuffed to Captain Methven, came in a minute later and shook hands with his consul. The latter informed the prisoner for the first time of the confession of Mrs. Nack and Thorn's face flushed. Mr. Howe handed his client a copy of the morning paper bearing a large headline which read: "Mrs. Nack has turned state's evidence."

Thorn gazed at it intently and then handed back the paper. At sixteen minutes to 10 o'clock the main door of the court house opened and Mrs. Nack, accompanied by her lawyer and Deputy Sheriff Debragga, walked up the center of the court. Thorn eyed her closely as she stood within a yard of him, but she avoided his gaze. She was soon placed on the stand, and under the administration of Judge Weller, began the recital of her story, leading up to the time that she had left her husband and was living with Guldensuppe at 439 Ninth avenue.

Guldensuppe was known there as her husband. Thorn came there to board. Thorn and Guldensuppe had a fight and Guldensuppe licked Thorn. Guldensuppe kicked Thorn downstairs. Thorn pulled a revolver and fired one shot at Guldensuppe, but did not hit him.

"After fourteen days," said Mrs. Nack, "a man came to my house for Thorn's clothes. I told the man that Thorn was sick in the hospital, but gave him the clothes. Thorn came back three days later with his face and eyes black and blue and his neck swollen. He asked me for money."

"Why did he ask you for money?" asked Judge Weller.

"He got no work and I gave him money," replied Mrs. Nack in broken English. "When Thorn went away I promised to pay his board bill until he could get work. I met Thorn after this at Twenty-third street and Ninth avenue, when I gave him $20. Thorn was very bitter against Guldensuppe and wanted to kill him. Thorn said: 'Woman, I love you.' I said: 'I am a married woman.' 'I know better; you are not,' replied Thorn; 'your husband lives in a story.'"

"Thorn again said he wanted to kill Guldensuppe. I said: 'Martin, don't kill Guldensuppe; no, kill me.' One day I had another talk with Thorn, and he again said he would kill Guldensuppe. I said no, he said yes. One night Thorn and I quarreled. Martin grabbed me by the throat and held me till blood came from my nose and mouth. I then had a talk with Thorn about hiring a house at Woodside. We went out to see the house and Thorn offered the woman who had the key money, but she would not take it. We then returned to the saloon in New York. This man owned the Woodside house and Thorn paid him $15 in cash for one month's rent of the Woodside house. I think Thorn gave the name of Braun when he hired the house. Thorn took the receipt and told the landlord he did not know when he would move in. Then Thorn told me we would kill Guldensuppe in the Ninth avenue house and put his body in a trunk and send it away. I said, 'No, don't do that.' Thorn then told me to bring Guldensuppe to the Woodside house and he would kill him there. I had to do all Martin told me to."

Gradually the lawyer led the witness up to the morning of Friday, June 25, the day that the crime was committed. She said she and Guldensuppe left New York between 9 and 10 o'clock that morning and after they had crossed the ferry they boarded a trolley car, which left them at the Woodside cottage.

"I had the key of the house," she said, "and I opened the front door. I told Guldensuppe to enter and examine the house while I went into the yard. He went up stairs and I heard a shot. Martin Thorn came running down and when he met me he said, 'I've shot him; he is dead.' He was very excited and I was half dead," said the self-confessed murderess breathlessly.

"What did you do then?" asked Judge Weller.

"He asked me to go home and come back at 5 o'clock. When I came back that evening Thorn had everything packed in bundles. He handed me a bundle which he said contained Guldensuppe's clothes and he took another bundle which was wrapped up in gray colored paper. He said that it was Guldensuppe's head and that it was done up in plaster paris. We took the trolley car and went over to New York on a ferry boat."

"On which ferry?"

"I don't know; I am a stranger to the city and can't say. When we reached New York I went home and Thorn went some other place. I cut open the bundle and found clothes."

"Whose clothes?" asked the prosecutor.

"William Guldensuppe's," replied the woman emphatically. "I saw Thorn that evening again and he told me to meet him the following morning (Saturday) at Thirty-fourth street ferry."

"Where had he put the head?"

"I don't know; he only told me that he had done away with it. I met him the next day at Thirty-fourth street ferry, and then we arranged about hiring a carriage." The woman then told in detail how the other packages were brought in the surrey and dropped in the river and the Ogden woods, near High Bridge. The woman spoke fairly intelligible English, with a very strong German accent. During the recital, Thorn's lawyers left their accustomed seats near the prisoner and were accommodated with chairs closer to the witness.

Thorn listened to every word with his lips closely compressed, his hands clasped and resting on his knees. Frequently his lips became dry and parched and occasionally he would moisten them with his tongue. His face bore that same stolid look of indifference which it has worn all through, but his eyes were unrestful. When he was not gazing at his accuser, he was casting furtive glances around the court room and up into the galleries, which were crowded with men and women.

During her direct examination, Mrs. Nack broke down and cried, but this had no effect on the prisoner and if anything, he seemed to enjoy her discomforture, as the old time grin played about his mouth. Howe began his cross examination in a very insinuating way and soon made her acknowledge that the house in Woodside was rented for the sole purpose of killing Guldensuppe there, that she decoyed him there, that when she bought the oil cloth and other wrappings it was for the purpose of packing up the portions of his body after Thorn would have finished his murderous task.

Adroitly and cleverly the lawyer made the woman own up to the most damning and cold booded preparations for getting rid of her lover.

"Did you cry then?" asked the cross examiner.

"No."

"Did you cry when you hired the house?"

"No."

The lawyer continued this line of inquiry leading up to the moment of the murder, getting the same stolid "no" for an answer each time.

"And now, may I ask, did you cry when Thorn told you he had shot your lover Guldensuppe?" asked Thorn's counsel.

Mrs. Nack's eyes filled up and she replied:

"Yes, I did cry then. I could not help it."

"What did you do when you first came to this country—what was your occupation?"

"Midwife," was the reply.

"How many children did you kill, Mrs. Nack?" was the next question.

"I never killed one to my knowledge, and I can prove it by doctors," answered the woman with much emphasis.

Several other questions in this vien followed, to all of which the witness replied with positives denials.

Mr. Howe departed from the court room for a few minutes, during which time Lawyer Moss and the prisoner held an earnest consultation. Thorn seemed to be very deeply interested and whispered to his counsel with lips close to the latter's ear. Mrs. Nack, in reply to Mr. Howe, acknowledged that while in the Queens county jail she wrote a letter to Thorn.

"Did you begin the letter with the words, 'My dear boy?'"

The witness would not say whether these were the words or not.

"You said today that you never were intimate with Thorn; that you only loved him because he threatened you, and because he was a gentleman. Now this letter was written three months after the murder, and you loved him still when you used those words in the letter?"

The witness nodded an assent.

Attorney Weller showed Mrs. Nack four photographs of Guldensuppe's, which she identified. He asked:

"Why do you make this statement?"

Mrs. Nack replied: "I don't want to have it on my mind."

Then she began to cry. She tossed about in the witness chair, used her handkerchief and sobbed for some time. Her emotion affected nearly everyone in the court room. It was some minutes before she resumed her testimony and she then said:

"I make this statement of my own free will. I want to get it off my conscience. No promise of mercy has been made me. I wanted to clear my mind. I don't care what hangs over me or what they do with me."

TRAINS COLLIDE.

Six Persons Injured, One Will Die.

The Ill-fated Trains a Passenger on the Eastern Illinois and a Milk Train on the Wabash.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—Chicago and Eastern Illinois passenger train No. 12, bound for Chicago, collided with a milk train on the Wabash railroad at Hammond junction and Eighty-sixth street today while both trains were going at high speed. Six persons were seriously injured.

Engineer Stoner, of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois, will probably die. The other five will recover. A misplaced switch caused the wreck.

The injured are:

John Stoner, ribs crushed, leg broken.

A. K. McCron, brakeman, Chicago and Eastern Illinois, right arm crushed.

Mrs. Bessie Richards, Carmen, Ill., head cut, body bruised.

Mrs. Louise Austerman, Beecher, Ill., bruised and cut.

John Stoolsirn, Chicago, head cut and bruised.

C. Persquet, Chicago, right arm crushed.

WILL FIGHT TRUST.

Plans Laid to Down the Great Sugar Combine.

Everything Will be in Readiness by January 1—Beet Sugar Refineries in the Big Deal.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—The Chronicle says: Plans have been perfected and assurance is given that everything will be in readiness for fighting the sugar trust on January 1, when the five year contract of the Hawaiian planters at the western sugar refinery will expire. It will continue to handle that portion of the crop, say from 40,000 to 50,000 tons which Claus Spreckles can control. Of the remainder of 225,000 tons 150,000 will be placed on the market by the California Beet Sugar and Refining company, in which Welch & Co., George W. McNear and their friends are the principal elements. Of the 150,000 tons of raw island sugar 90,000 tons will be sent to New York, where it has already been sold to refineries independent of the trust. The remaining 60,000 tons will be refined at the California Beet Sugar and Refinery company's works at Crockett, on the Straits of Carquinez.

HANGS FRIDAY.

Judge Bahres Settles Durrant's Case.

The Murderer of Blanche Lamont and Minnie Williams Has Only Two Days More of Life.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—Theodore Durrant, the condemned murderer of Miss Blanche Lamont and presumably slayer of Miss Williams, was taken before Judge Bahres today for the purpose of having the date for his execution reset.

His attorneys made a desperate attempt to secure further delay but Judge Bahres brushed aside all their technical objections and ordered that Durrant be hanged on Friday next.

Major Butterworth Better.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 10.—Major Butterworth's condition changed for the better during last night and his physicians today believe he has passed the crisis and will recover, unless something unforseen occurs.

LIKE A MARTYR

Faith Curist Smith Trudged Off to Jail.

Justice Bullerman Declared Him Guilty of Neglecting His Sick Child—An Unusual Case.

"I won't appeal the case; I won't pay the fine. Take me to jail."

So spake Henry Smith, faith curist, when at the conclusion of his trial Justice Bullerman had assessed a fine against the man for cruelly neglecting to provide proper medical treatment for his sick child.

Smith was arrested yesterday afternoon at his home five miles from the city. He spent the night in town, being out on his own recognizance. He was arraigned for trial at 10 o'clock this morning before Justice Bullerman. Deputy Prosecutor Thomas conducted the case for the state. Police Lieutenant Henry Lapp, Humane Officer Louis Schlaudroff, Dr. E. J. McOscar and the defendant were all the persons who gave any testimony. The officers testified as to the facts already made public concerning the illness of Smith's twelve-year-old daughter, Effie, with typhoid pneumonia, and of the condition of the patient when they had visited her. Dr. McOscar testified as to the present condition of the patient and gave it as his opinion that proper medical treatment would have probably prevented the impairment of the girl's mind and her hearing.

Smith himself was on the witness stand for a long time and gave his story of his conversion to the faith cure, and quoted the Scriptures for his authority. He said that he formerly led a wicked life and that he drank and occasionally got into trouble. He was converted and thenceforward took the Bible as his only guide. Of his conversion to the faith cure he told an interesting story of having suffered for many years from dyspepsia without any physicians affording him relief. Once in church, he said, he had shocked the minister and congregation by announcing his belief that the Lord was going to cure him. He thought no more of the matter for a period of three weeks, when one day while in the field it occurred to him that his dyspepsia was gone He says it has never come back. Since then he has been an ardent believer in the faith cure. Smith then read from the Bible he had brought with him the 13th, 14th and 15th verses of the fifth chapter of James, which he claimed as the foundation of his belief in the faith cure. He said that he believed it "would be a slur on God" to call a physician for his sick daughter when he believed the Lord would take care of her.

On more minute examination by Prosecutor Thomas, Smith disclosed some curious things in his belief. He declared his belief that God would take care of a fractured leg, mend a broken skull and heal a leg that had been mangled by a locomotive. He admitted that when his stock was sick he called a veterinary surgeon and had recently done so. But for his children he would have no physican and frankly, even with some exultation declared so. He admitted all the facts alleged against him, even that his daughter had suffered from delirium so violent that two persons were required to hold her in bed.

After Deputy Prosecutor Thomas had briefly addressed the court and Dr. McOscar had made a brief statement, Justice Bullerman assessed a fine of $5 and costs, $17.50 in all. Smith protested only that he was obeying a higher law than man's.

When the mittimus was made out Smith started to jail with great cheerfulness, confident of his martyrdom and no doubt disappointed that he had not been condemned to the stake.

ANOTHER MARTYR.

Mrs. Amanda Baird Violates Sanitary Laws

And is Fined in the Sum of $50—Gave Diphtheria Patients Christian Science Treatment.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 10.—Mrs. Amanda J. Baird, the Christian science healer, was fined $50 in police court today for failing to report to the board of health a case of diphtheria she was treating. Mrs. Baird immediately signed bond, appealing the case to the criminal court. G. H. Kinney, the father of Mae E. Kinney, who died under Mrs. Baird's Christian science treatment, signed the bond. The parents of the dead child were among the first to shake hands with Mrs. Baird after the conviction.

FORTUNE A MYTH.

Vice President Hobart Knows Nothing of Imblay Clark's Millions.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—The $25,000,000 fortune of the late Imblay Clark, which Miss Grace M. Elliott, of this city, expected to inherit seems to have been a myth. Vice President Hobart and Governor Griggs, of New Jersey, whose names are used in connection with the story, gave no credence to it and disclaim all knowledge of the case, in which it was stated they had been engaged by eastern heirs of the dead miner.

The Carroll Reading club will meet Thursday with Mrs. Louis Cenlivre.

A MISER'S END.

Death of Charles Pearcy, a Queer Character in Chicago.

Was Thought to be Poor But Left Wealth to the Amount of $40,000.

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 10.—Charles Pearcy, who for fifteen years was a familiar figure on West Madison street, is dead. He was old, at least fifty-five, when he took his lodging in a little room at 221 West Madison street. He lived the life of a recluse from the beginning. At times he did his own cooking; sometimes he ate in the cheap restaurants of the neighborhood. He never did any work; neither did he ever seem to be in actual want. He made no friends; he bothered no one—all he asked was to be let alone. Yet there were things about the old man that provoked curiosity. He gave signs of having seen better days. The busybodies kept up their prying until they discovered that the old had come to Chicago from Virginia. Next they learned he had a brother somewhere in that state who was a county clerk or something of the kind. Still later it was reported that he had another brother in New York who was rich. But the old man would not talk about himself and would neither affirm nor deny these reports. Although living the life of a miser, an investigation of his room after his death shows that he was wealthy. The room was shabbily furnished and littered with all sorts of odds and ends. The chances of finding anything seemed slight, but from all sorts of impossible places government bonds, money in small amounts, two watches, a memoranda showing deposits in various banks to the amount of $3,000 and other valuables were dragged out. The total amount of his wealth is estimated at between $35,000 and $40,000.

VINCENT QUITS.

The Great Lawyer Drops Out of the Luetgert Case.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—Attorney William A. Vincent has withdrawn from the Luetgert case. He sent a letter to the prisoner yesterday announcing his determination to sever his connection with the defense. Luetgert received the communication with indifference and said that he was satisfied. Then he and Attorney Phalen, who will now have charge of the trial, held a conference.

Shortly after Mr. Phalen's talk with Luetgert the attorney called on State's Attorney Deneen and agreed that he would meet him again today for the purpose of setting a definite time for the hearing of the case and selecting a judge who will be satisfactory to prosecution and defense. It is now believed that the case will be set for trial during this month.

ARCOLA, Ill., Nov. 10.—Mrs. A. L. Luetgert, wife of the Chicago sausagemaker, is reported to have been in this vicinity recently. The news of her appearance here was carried to Chicago by a traveling man who claimed to have seen her. A detective was sent here to search for the missing woman. It is rumored that relatives of Mrs. Luetgert live near Sigel, south of here

IN THE WILDS.

A Real Hot Prize Fight Pulled Off Near Walla Walla, Washington.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Nov. 10.—A notable prize fight has taken place on a farm near the state line six miles south of here, between Cassidy, of San Francisco, and Murphy, of Salt Lake, before a large crowd from Walla Walla, Pendleton and LaGrande. The men were evenly matched, Cassidy weighing 145 and Murphy 150 pounds. Fifteen rounds were fought and from the first Cassidy had the best of it, knocking Murphy down in nearly every round. In the fifteenth round when Cassidy had Murphy almost done for, he gave Murphy an opening and the latter landed a terrific right hand blow on Cassidy's chin, knocking him out. Murphy was badly punished while Cassidy showed only a few marks. The fight was for $250 a side.

NEGRO ASYLUM BURNED.

Seven Hundred Patients at Milledgeville, Ga., Rescued in Safety.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Nov. 10.—The negro building of the state lunatic asylum caught fire yesterday afternoon. The east end of the building was soon destroyed and the flames then attacked the remaindor of the building.

The city fire department went to work with its full force and the Macon department was telegraphed for. The 700 patients in the building were saved by the heroic work of the citizens and firemen.

A very high wind was blowing, but the adjoining buildings were declared free from danger. The origin of the fire is unknown. The loss will be $35,000, fully covered by insurance.

AMONG THE MISSING.

Indicted North Dakota Banker Believed To Be in Canada.

GRAND FORKS, N D, Nov. 10.—Ex-State Treasurer Booker is among the missing. Some time ago Booker was indicted by the federal grand jury for making a fraudulent report to the comptroller of the currency on the condition of the Grand Forks National bank of which he was president. When his case was called in the United States court Booker failed to respond and his bonds were declared forfeited. Officers have been unable to find him and the supposition is that he is now in Canada. The Grand Forks National bank failed two years ago. Booker was at one time reported to be worth $1,000,000.

THE FAIR WILL.

Sixteen More Contests Soon to be Filed.

The Three Daughters are Certain to Bring Suits Against the Trust Will—The Widow in the Fight.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—Within a few days sixteen more contests are to be filed in the superior court against the trust will of the late James G. Fair. This will is dated September 21, 1894, and the original was stolen from the county clerk's office and never recovered. There is certain to be a suit brought by the three children, Mrs. Herman Oelrichs, Miss Virginia Fair and Chas. L. Fair Mrs. Nettie Craven will probably file a second, and a third may be commenced in the name of the alleged grandchild of the deceased millionaire. The contests will be commenced upon the grounds that ex-Senator Fair was incompetent or insane at the time he made the trust will and that he was acting under undue influence and duress. Mrs. Craven's suit will probably be brought by her as the widow of the ex-senator. Judge Slack's decision places her in such a position that she must fight the trust will if she expects to get anything at all. The contest will be upon the same general grounds as that of the three children. It is stated that the contest of the heirs will be brought to obtain relief in case Judge Slack is reversed by the supreme court in his ruling, destroying the trust clause in the will.

NEWS OF THE COURTS.

O. N. Heaton, as commissioner in the partition suit of Vesey vs. Gillette, has filed his report in the superior court, showing that he has disposed of the property in litigation for $2,500.

The argument in the Mentzer divorce suit was to have been taken up today in the superior court, but has been postponed until Friday, owing to pressure of other important business in that court.

Mrs. Gorsline, matron of the Door of Hope, and John Schmetzer left this morning for Indianapolis, having in charge the Frederickson and Trevert girls, who were sentenced to the female reformatory in that city.

A lunacy commission, consisting of Justices Tancey and Bullerman and Drs. Enslen and Porter, today adjudged Columbus T. Wilson to be of unsound mind. He has been taken to the county infirmary, pending his removal to the insane hospital.

John Wambaugh, an incorrigible youth, will be tried in the circuit court next Monday.

A large steel file case for bonds and wills was received by County Clerk Metzgar today.

Sheriff Melching reports that Duke, the big trailer bloodhound, is very sick from cold and distemper. The climate does not agree with the man-hunter. Queen, the other dog, is in the best of health.

The circuit court jury is listening to the argument of counsel in the damage suit of Roebuck vs. Klett.

"GOOD CONFESSION."

The meetings at the West Creighton avenue Church of Christ are continuing with great interest and power. Last evening John J. Higgs preached to a large congregation. His subject was "The Good Confession," text Rom. 10-10. "With the Mouth Confession is Made Unto Salvation." The sermon was very plain but full of gospel truths. He said that the good confession was something real and definite, something distinct; it is concerning a divine person and not a confession of some faith gotten up by some infallible person consisting of so many articles, etc. He said no man was ever saved under the gospel or Christian dispensation who did not confess that Jesus Christ was the son of God For a true reason there is, in the doctrine of the apostles of Christ, an enforcement, an emphasis of the fact that Jesus of Nazareth, was a real appearance of history. It is a fact to be taught and confessed against all tendencies to make Christ a mere influence and sentiment in life. "I believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God" This is the good confession. It was confessed by men as they came, in penitence, and faith, to the waters of baptism. "Behold, here is water; what doth hinder me to be baptized?" exclaimed the Ethiopian eunuch. Philip said: "If thou believist with all thy heart thou mayest." And he answered and said: "I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God." The good confession, so simple, so plain, so beautiful. Every knee shall bow and every tongue shall confess to God. The subject for tonight will be: "What is Baptism?" Prof. Hackelman, the "singing evangelist," will assist in the services. Prof. Hackelman is well known in Indiana as an excellent singer. Do not fail to hear him.

SOLD PATTERNS.

And the Purchasers Were Victims of an Imposition.

Scheme of a Couple of "Agents" to Get Rid of a Cheap Job Lot of Patterns—Amusing Results

Several days past two smooth young men have been working like bees in Fort Wayne, and as a result of their industry they got rid of a big job lot of cheap patterns worth about twenty-five cents for waste paper. The modus operandi of the scheme which the fellows worked so successfully was this: Permission was secured at several of the big manufacturing concerns to show their goods to clerks and other employes, to whom they represented that they were agents for an extensive eastern house and were introducing a new pattern of a shirt which was "the thing" in swelldom of Gotham, and had met the endorsement of E. Berry Wall, the king of dudes, and others. The sample shown was quite an allurement in itself, and one might imagine that the ghost of Ward McAllister would rise in rapturous admiration for the new pattern. The genteel element was so deeply impressed with the shirt that orders came thick and fast and shekels filled the pockets of the "agents." The sequel is now being developed.

The patterns were delivered last week and immediately thereafter there was a boom in the business of seamstresses, some of whom were deluged with orders. Deliveries were made yesterday at the electric light works, where it is said quite a number of young gentlemen bought patterns, and when the packages were opened the contents did not consist of gents' shirts, but neat little shirt waists for children, the kind of shirt waists that dealers sell for about fourteen cents. The first victim referred the matter to the next man who received a package from the seamstress. He, too, had shirt waists. Then it dawned upon the various young men interested that they had been worked for suckers and had paid fifty cents for a child's shirt waist pattern. An effort was made to hush up the matter, but the pattern agents had worked too extensively to keep it quiet. Many sales were made in the down town district, as well as at the manufacturing establishments, and those who bought them would probably number in the hundreds. They will do well to examine the patterns before sending them to the seamstress to have shirts made up. Unless they do this there will probably be a glut in the shirt waist market at an early day.

SOME MYSTERY.

Strange Case of William Meyer, the Broadway Hatter.

Did Not Return Home Last Night, and Found in a Dazed Condition at His Store This Morning.

William Meyer, the Broadway hatter, did not return to his home after business hours last night, and a search was prosecuted all over the city for him without success. His store was properly locked and a search there was as fruitless as it was elsewhere This morning when a clerk went into the basement of the store he was amazed to find his employer seated on a box, his eyes open and staring, and apparently helpless. He spoke to him but could get no answer. He then summoned help and Mr. Meyer was conveyed to his home, on Wilt street, where Dr. Proegler attended him. The patient was in a semi-conscious state, too dazed to understand questions intelligibly, and appeared to be in a very serious condition. The symptoms were somewhat similar to asphyxiation, but there seemed to be no escape of gas into the cellar. It is a case that puzzles the physician, who cannot diagnose it clearly until Mr. Meyer is able to talk. No effort will be made to get his story until this evening.

CULTIVATE THE BEET.

A Sugar Beet Club Will be Organized on Corner Stone Day—Committee's Plans.

The committee appointed by the Commercial club to encourage the raising of sugar beets by creating an interest among the farmers, met yesterday afternoon and decided to call a meeting for Wednesday, November 17th, corner stone day, and then effect an organization of a sugar beet club. Immediately after the corner stone exercises a meeting will be held for this purpose at the city hall. Charles F. Muhler, president of the Commercial club, will preside at the meeting and addresses will be made by Alexander Johnson, Charles S. Bash, S. R. Alden and others. Farmers who have raised sugar beets will be asked to relate their experience.

DROPPED DEAD.

Robert J. Hamilton, sr., Suddenly Expires.

He Was Attending to Duties on His Farm When the Summons Came Without Warning.

This morning about 8:30 o'clock Robert J. Hamilton, sr., dropped dead of heart failure at his suburban home, southwest of the city, near the Allen County Orphans' home. Mr. Hamilton went out into the yard to feed the chickens and do other light chores, when he was seen to stagger and fall. When members of the family reached his side he was dead.

Mr. Hamilton was an old resident of the county, and for many years was a prominent citizen of the south side. He was born in Ireland and was seventy years of ago. He came to this country in 1835, and soon after his arrival he came to Fort Wayne. He was for many years an employe of the Wabash shops as a machinist, but his advancing age caused him to relinquish those duties for the less arduous ones of light farming, and about ten years ago he settled upon a small farm where he lived up to the time of his death. Mr. Hamilton was a kind husband and father, and was highly respected by all who knew him. The widow and three children survive him. The latter are: Miss E. Louise Hamilton, a teacher in the High school; Fred Hamilton, who attends to the farm, and Robert J. Hamilton, jr., who is city passenger agent of the Nickel Plate. The funeral will occur Sunday afternoon and will be conducted under the auspices of Home lodge, No. 342, F. and A. M., of which the deceased was a member.

THE SAENGERBUND.

New Officers Elected and Annual Reports Heard.

The annual meeting of the Fort Wayne Saengerbund was held last evening in the rooms, on West Main street. After the reports of the officers had been received, the following officers were elected:

President, William Hahn; vice president, M. Steinert; secretary, Theodore Bruck; financial secretary, Albert Wies; treasurer, Gottlieb Unger; archiver, Barney Krull; flag bearers, Casper Hartung and William Kastel; trustees, Al Richter, John Lehman and Charles Jacobs.

There was a large attendance, and the proposition to give an entertainment and social for the members and their friends on Thanksgiving eve met with hearty endorsement. The entertainment will be on a large scale, and a fine program will be arranged. A committee, consisting of Gottlieb Unger, T. Miller and William Kastel, was appointed to make the arrangements for the affair.

Y. M. C. A.

The Fort Wayne Branch Reorganized.

W. E. Clapham, president of the Fort Wayne Young Men's Christian association, has re-appointed the city department committee of management for the ensuing year, and the following will serve at the Railroad department:

R. E. Doty, chairman; A. H. Polhamus, Hiram A. Philley, E. S. Philley, C. H. Newton, A. D. Craig, C. B. Stemen, Amos Sine, S. F Bowser, W. W. Olmstead, J. R. Medsher, James Trythall, C. H. Chapman, F. M. Mauk, N. B. Whitsell, Chas. Yagerlehner and W. A. S. Parry.

The new committee met on Monday evening, and completed their organization, by electing the following officers:

Vice Chairman—H. A. Philley.
Treasurer—C. H. Newton.
Recording Secretary—W. W. Olmstead.

Chairman Doty appointed the following gentlemen chairmen of the several committees:

Devotional—Hiram A. Philley.
Membership—Amos Sine.
Reception—Charles Yagerlehner.
Rooms—E. S. Philley.
Educational Class Work—C. H. Newton.
Visitation of Sick and Injured—A. D. Craig.
Library—C. H. Chapman.
Music—W. A. S. Parry.
Finance—C. H. Newton.

Twenty-two applications for membership were presented at this meeting.

Special meetings will be held during next week, on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings, to which everybody is cordially invited. These meetings will be held throughout the world in observance of the week of prayer for young men. City pastors will deliver addresses.

FORT WAYNE needs a curfew law. Policemen will all subscribe to this

A YEAR ago the Kentucky legislature had a republican majority. There are now 100 silver democrats and thirty five republicans in that body.

MISS CISNEROS seems to have been worth saving. The young lady is showing remarkably good sense by keeping out of sight as much as her friends will let her

EFFORTS on the part of physicians in charge of the insane hospitals for women in the City of Mexico to discover some safe narcotic which should produce sleep have resulted in bringing into daily use in that institution a simple remedy prepared from the [illegible] it produces a tranquil sleep and since it has been used no deaths from cerebral congestion have been known there

YOUNG Dick Eagan's Chicago horse show quit business some $25,000 loser but young Dick had a chance to win signal triumph over the state board of agriculture and that was worth the price, inasmuch as [illegible] to pay the freight

NOW that Alton, Ill., has got through the ceremonies of dedicating a monument to that grand pioneer of the abolitionists, Elijah P Lovejoy, her people can resume the war on the colored school children of the place and make them flock by themselves

THOSE Georgia legislators are not guilty of bad philosophy in choosing of two evils the lesser. They purpose to abolish foot ball and horse prize fighting. Operations in the prize ring may not be quite so artistic nor in as good form as foot ball but it's some degrees less fatal

AN enterprising Chicago restaurant man printed this choice morsel on his bills of fare last week. "Julia Marlowe, now at the Columbia theater, is a leader, and so are our New England boiled dinners, 15 cents. Go and see her and then look at our pigs' feet and cabbage 10 cents"

AN American consul in Argentina makes the prediction that the production of wool in that country has reached the maximum and that American wool growers have no reason to fear increasing competition. At the same time comes the report from Australia that the demand for American sheep in Australia for breeding purposes is constantly and rapidly growing. All this should be good news for the American sheep raisers. Only a short time ago they were much cast down because of the decline in values and profits

HER MAJESTY of Italy is perhaps, the best educated queen in Europe. She is almost as thorough ly conversant with German, French, English and Spanish as she is with her own Italian besides being both a Latin and a Greek scholar, and she is so fond of Shakespeare that she has written for her own use a little book on his heroines. Queen Margherita is also very familiar with the writings of Ruskin and Darwin among other English writers, besides being well acquainted with European literature generally, and numbers among her studies such subjects as theology, geology and botany

Curfew Law Needed.

Fort Wayne needs a curfew law—needs it badly. Too many boys and girls of tender years have the privileges of the streets at night until such hours as it suits them to go home. These youngsters have careless parents, whom it is the duty of the city [illegible] ordinance requiring the juvenile night roysterers to stay off the streets. There is no place where bad habits and vicious practices are so readily schooled into the conduct of youth as in the streets of a city by night. In a vast majority of cases the first step to ruin is merely a careless step. So many such careless steps would not be taken if boys and girls were not permitted the liberty that belongs only to grown folk. A curfew law will drive the boys and girls off the streets at a proper hour and keep them indoors where they belong

Any one who will take the trouble to observe the number of boys and girls ranging from eight to sixteen years that may be found any night from dark to 10 and 11 o'clock on the down town streets will encounter a source of astonishment. The same is true in a varying degree of the other parts of the city. Hundreds of boys and girls are foolishly given unrestricted freedom, and often it is because the parents are less concerned about the sort of men and women their children shall become than with being bothered with them at home. The crop of criminals will be greatly curtailed and the army of fallen women will be vastly diminished if a curfew law is immediately passed and put into effect

WORD CONTEST.

One Hundred Dollars in Cash to be Given Away

Something to Entertain, Interest and Please the Young, the Old and the Middle Aged

As the winter evenings are drawing nigh, when the young and old folks will have plenty of time for thought and work, we have discovered a little plan for their entertainment and amusement which will handsomely compensate them for the time and pains they may devote to it. We want to know how many words can be made from the letters,

THE FORT WAYNE SENTINEL.

Use each letter as desired, but not more times than it appears in "THE FORT WAYNE SENTINEL." Verbs, pronouns, adjectives, nouns, adverbs, plurals allowed. Words spelled alike, but having different meanings, count as one word. Use any standard dictionary. All legitimate English words count. Proper nouns, prefixes, suffixes, obsolete and foreign words do not count. Work it out as follows: Tar, tray, hat, her, eat, eel, fail, first, etc, etc

To the person making the largest list of words from the twenty letters found in THE FORT WAYNE SENTINEL we will pay $50, to the second, $25, to the third, $15, to the fourth, $10

The words must be written on one side of the sheet and numbered and sent to this office addressed to

WORD EDITOR.

Not later than December 23, 1897 as the contest closes on the evening of that date. Begin now, but do not send in lists till near the close of the contest, as it is desired that all who engage in this competition shall strive earnestly to win the prize

This is open to every man, woman and child in Fort Wayne, and Allen county and every county adjoining Allen. No other conditions are imposed, it makes no difference whether you are a subscriber to THE SENTINEL or not. All are eligible to enter the contest. Tell your neighbors and friends about it

Rheumatism, Oh the Pain!

The aches and pains of Rheumatism become a constant companion to all who are victims of this disabling disease. Much suffering could be avoided if the first warning pains of Rheumatism were heeded and the proper treatment at once taken. But the people generally are not acquainted with the cause of the disease, though thousands know its tortures. Those who use liniments and ointments cannot understand why they grow worse each winter, and find themselves gradually becoming unable to get around as they once could; yet they know that their trouble came on at first as little aches and pains, which hardly attracted their attention.

Everybody should know more about rheumatism, they should know that it is a peculiar condition of the blood upon which all the liniments in the world can have no effect whatever. The best blood remedy is needed—one which is able to go to the very seat of the disease, and force it out. Swift's Specific (S S S) is the right remedy for Rheumatism, because it is the only blood remedy free from mercury, potash and other minerals which intensify the disease, causing stiffness of the joints and aching of the bones.

Swift's Specific being a real blood remedy never fails to cure Rheumatism. It reaches even the worst cases where the doctors have made cripples with their prescriptions of potash and mercury.

Mr. D. R. Johnson, an extensive lumber dealer of Blackshear, Ga., writes.

"My wife was for years a sufferer from Rheumatism, and was treated constantly, but could obtain no relief. The pain was first felt in her left shoulder, and extended in all directions, increasing in severity. The doctors said the disease was liable to strike the heart at any time, in which event death would be inevitable.

"Every kind of treatment recommended for Rheumatism was given her, including many blood remedies, but none did her any good. She was growing worse all the while, and was reduced to a mere shadow of her former self.

"It was at this critical period that Swift's Specific was given her; the medicine seemed to reach the disease promptly, and she at once began to improve. One dozen bottles effected a complete cure, and she has had no touch of the disease since."

Every one afflicted with Rheumatism should take a remedy which can reach their trouble. S.S.S will cure the most aggravated case of Rheumatism, Catarrh, Cancer, Contagious Blood Poison, Scrofula, Eczema, or any other blood disease. It is guaranteed

Purely Vegetable.

Since 1861 I have been a great sufferer from catarrh. I tried Ely's Cream Balm and to all appearances am cured. Terrible headaches from which I had long suffered are gone. —W J Hitchcock, late Major U. S. Vol. and A. A. Gen., Buffalo, N. Y.

LUTE HAWKIN'S WIFE.

Lute Hawkin's wife's a worker I m willin an free to say

There ain't no laziness in her she's hustlin night an day

An tellin yer jest the truth on t, an givin Old Nick his due

There may be thriftier women, but I guess they re mighty few

Her house is as clean as a whistle there's [illegible] a speck nor crumb

An she'd a been jest perfection if only they'd made her dumb

But her tongue's got more [illegible] than a rake tooth [illegible]

An she rasps yer all to thunder with never starts her jaw

We've been there a visitin [illegible], Mary—my wife—an me

Stand there a fortnight [illegible]

The way she'd light on Luther for the little triflin things

An the kinder talk she give him is the kind that sticks an stings

An him Good land He hasn't [illegible] soul's his own

An he answers her awful humble, in the [illegible] est kind of a tone

I sez to him Ha s some gumption but is only sez [illegible] whiz

I reckon yer never see [illegible] really riz

But say, one night—O Lordy I am [illegible] it yit—

Lute started away with a pitcher [illegible] goin git

Some cider they had in the cellar, but his foot ketched, unawares,

An away went Lute an the crockery to the foot of the cellar stairs

Bumpity crash teharrup! Wonder he wasn't killed dead

But his wife she thought of the pitcher an not of the old man's head

"Did yer break the pitcher you loony?" she hollered to him, jest so,

An Luther riz up [illegible] fairly screech ed out No!

It ain't hurt nary an atom [illegible] got even a crack

But yer'd think of a ten cent pitcher if I broke my tarnal back

Yer [illegible] old jug [illegible] now I'll set it [illegible] hash

An he up with the thing, by ginger an busted it all to smash

Well, wan't that woman a pi ter! Her mouth was as big as a cup,

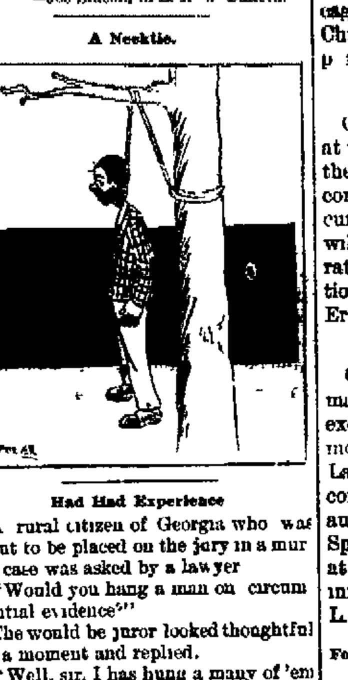

But before she could git it to workin Lute sings out Yew shet up!

An I reckon yer won t believe it, but I wish that I might be hung

If the rest of that blessed evenin she didn t jest hold her tongue.

—Joe Lincoln in L. A. W Bulletin

A Necktie.

Had Had Experience

A rural citizen of Georgia who was about to be placed on the jury in a murder case was asked by a lawyer

"Would you hang a man on circumstantial evidence?"

The would be juror looked thoughtful for a moment and replied.

"Well, sir, I has hung a many of 'em on a good deal less."—Atlanta Constitution

Data Necessary.

"I want to buy a cane," she said, as she tripped into the store.

"For a young man, I suppose?" asked the polite clerk.

"Yes"

"Did you bring his measure?"

"His measure? I didn't know that a man had to be measured for a cane."

"Well, we ought to have the size of his mouth "—New York World.

The Wretched Middle Class.

Doctor—You ought to take that child into the country for several weeks every summer

Mother—Oh, doctor, I'm sorry to say we are not rich enough

Doctor—Well, then, have her sent by a fresh air fund.

Mother—But, doctor, we're not poor enough.—Fliegende Blatter

In the Good Old Days.

"You may talk as you like," said the man who doesn't care for sport, "but there was one good thing about the gladiatorial fights of olden times."

"What was that?"

"The loser never had a chance to write to the papers and explain why he lost."—Boston Traveler

A Treasure.

Mrs. Winks—What kind of a girl have you now?

Mrs. Minks—A very nice one, ever so much nicer than the others. She doesn't seem to object to having us live in the house with her at all.—New York Weekly.

Injustice.

"I always believe in giving the devil his dues," said the young man who affects odd methods of thought.

"Yes," replied his tailor, "but I don't think you have any business discriminating against your other creditors in his favor."—Washington Star

The Theater of Today.

Badger—The theater is so different from what it was. It is but a fleeting show, so to speak. There's nothing stable about it.

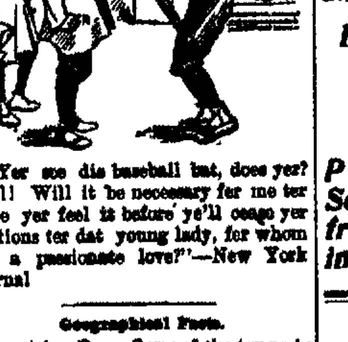

Widgit—That's too bad, by George, considering the amount of horse play there is in it.—Boston Transcript.

Plenty of Exercise.

Walker—The trouble with bicycling is that it does not develop the arms in proportion to the legs

Wheeler—Yes, it does, if you will only use one of those little two ounce hand pumps to inflate your tires.—Indianapolis Journal.

A Threat.

"Yer see dis baseball bat, does yer? Well! Will it be necessary for me ter make yer feel it before ye'll ceage yer 'tentions ter dat young lady, fer whom I've a passionate love?"—New York Journal

Geographical Facts.

Inquiring Boy—Some of the towns in my geography is in big letters and some in little letters. What's that for, pop?

Pop (a theatrical manager)—The towns in small letters are only one night stands.—New York Weekly.

Doing "stunts."

That seems to be the case with the women who are washing in the old way. You can stand on your head, for instance. Almost everyone could do it, if it were necessary or desirable. But standing on the feet is more natural and more sensible—and easier. So with soap and Pearline. Everyone can wash with soap—many do. But washing with Pearline is easier and more sensible. The hard work of soap is neither necessary nor desirable. Everyone should give up the use of soap and should use Pearline.

Look Out Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you, "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled. if your grocer sends you an imitation, be honest—send it back. JAMES PYLE, New York.

A NEW ROAD.

The Wabash Will Build a Toledo-Chicago Line.

Will Let the Old Road From Toledo to the Indiana State Line be Sold by the Court.

A telegram from Toledo conveys a bit of railway intelligence which, coming at a time when the question of the control of the Eel River road is in doubt, is of great importance to the citizens of this part of the state. The telegram reads as follows:

TOLEDO, Ohio, Nov. 10.—This city is to have another Chicago line, shorter than the Lake Shore road. It is to be built by the Wabash people.

Authority for the statement that the Wabash is going to build a new line out of Toledo is S. C. Reynolds, a director of the company. It may mean more than a new line. The Wabash has been kept out of the field for Chicago by an agreement with the Lake Shore, which let the Wabash into the Union station. Now, if the Wabash puts in a new Chicago line, it may be compelled to build a new station or go into another. Still another development may be another Detroit line in connection with the Flint and Pere Marquette. The whole matter grew out of the determination of the Wabash to let its line between Toledo and the Ohio and Indiana State line be sold under the Compton judgment. Mr. Reynold says: "The company has decided not to pay the agreement, but let the Ohio division be sold. It has come to the conclusion that it can better afford to build a new line out of Toledo. This will make a better connection with the system for less money than it will cost to buy the old line under the sale of the court."

Concerning this subject the Toledo Bee says: "It is now practically settled that the Wabash road will construct a new line from Toledo to Montpelier and there connect with the Detroit and Chicago division. The whole matter grew out of the determination of the Wabash to let its line between Toledo and the Ohio and Indiana state line be sold under the famous Compton judgment, which has been in the courts for fifteen years. The total amount of the claim was $558,000."

A PRETTY GOOD RUN.

The fastest run ever made on the New York Central, between Utica and Syracuse, was made Wednesday night by one of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern's new limited trains, which was placed in commission for the first time on that day. The distance of fifty-four miles was covered in just fifty-nine and a half minutes. The Empire State express makes the time in one hour and twelve minutes, which is considered fast time by most people. It has covered the distance in sixty-two minutes. The train as it left New York city was made up of a buffet, smoking car, drawing room car, dining car, double stateroom car and compartment and observation car. At Albany the drawing room car was cut out and two sleepers from Boston were added.

A PASSENGER AGENT DEAD.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 10.—Charles W. Reiff, traveling passenger agent of the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk and the Pennsylvania railroads, died last night at his home in this city from typhoid fever, aged thirty-nine years. Mr. Reiff had been in the service of the two companies for nearly twenty years. He was the inventor and patentee of the 1,000-mile mileage book used by the Pennsylvania and other roads.

AN OPEN MEETING.

Carpenters' union will meet tonight over the Nimrod Hall saloon, 54 East Main street. It will be an open meeting, and several persons not members of the union have been invited to deliver addresses. The Carpenters' union is on the high road to again become a great factor in Fort Wayne labor circles, and everything indicates a boom.

LAMONT WILL SUCCEED HILL.

WALLACE, Idaho, Nov. 10.—It is believed here that Daniel S. Lamont, vice president of the Northern Pacific railroad, will, within two months, succeed President Hill at the head of the Northern Pacific system. The opinion is based on the tone of messages which passed between Lamont and Hill while the former was here recently. The telegraphic correspondence was of such a nature as to indicate that Lamont's trip was solely to acquaint himself with the condition of the road to prepare himself for the broader duties upon which he was about to enter

TOM HARPER PROMOTED.

T. E Harper, formerly passenger conductor on the Nickel Plate, has been appointed master of transportation on the Dayton and Lima Northern with headquarters at Lima, Ohio.

Ed Gregg, formerly passenger conductor on the Nickel Plate, has been promoted to passenger conductor in Mr. Harper's place.

BOTTOM KNOCKED OUT.

Vice-President Duncan, of the Ohio Falls Car and Manufacturing company, at Jeffersonville, says the bottom is knocked out of the car building business for some time to come. He states as his reason that the freight cars they are now building are about twice the capacity of the old style cars, cost 50 per cent. less, and will last twice as long. This cuts quite a figure and he does not expect much of a boom in the business after the railroads become supplied. The concern has about eight hundred cars now under contract.

KICKING FOR BETTER LOCAL SERVICE.

Indianapolis Journal: "There is some complaint on the part of local travelers that on through trains much better coaches are used than in local business, while through travel pays but two and one-half cents per mile, and local business three cents per mile. One often hears of elegant and very expensive trains being built for the through service, but who ever hears of a new coach or entire new train being put into local service. It is in the local service that the cars which have become dilapidated are placed, new equipment replacing them on the through trains. Persons who thus complain should bear in mind that in through service competition is sharp, while in local traffic there is usually no competition unless it be the electric cars."

DIRECTORS ELECTED.

Last night the Jenney Electric Light and Power company held a meeting and elected directors as follows: R. T. McDonald, John H. Bass, George W. Pixley, Willis Hattersley, Eli Hoffman, Charles Guild and William P. Breen. In a few days the directors will hold a meeting and elect officers.

LOW FARE FOR CORNER STONE DAY.

R. B. Hanna, who was commissioned to secure excursion rates to this city on corner stone laying day, announces that he has been successful. All the railways entering the city will make a rate of one fare for the round trip on that occasion and some of the officials express a willingness to make extra efforts to bring a crowd to Fort Wayne. Low rates to this city on a "week day" is considered by the railways quite a concession, and our citizens should show a due appreciation by making a strenuous effort to draw a crowd.

CHICAGO AND ERIE ELECTION.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Chicago and Erie Railroad company for the election of directors was held at the office of the company in Huntington yesterday. Among the men chosen is Marcus A. Hanna, who figured so conspicuously in the late campaign in Ohio.

HAD HIS HEEL CRUSHED.

Harry G. Krudop, head sawyer at the Hoffman mills, had his left foot caught in the gearing of some shafting this morning and had the heel badly crushed. Dr. McOscar is the attending surgeon.

BRIEF MENTIONS

Nickel Plate Conductor J. F. Long is sick.

J. B. Dunne has been appointed superintendent of telegraph of the Southern Pacific lines.

The railroad branch of the Y. M. C. A. will next Monday evening begin a week of prayer.

Nickel Plate Fireman O. L. Shouff has resumed his work after a few days' visit with friends in Chicago.

C. S. Brice, on Saturday, with officials of the Northern Ohio and the Cleveland, Akron and Columbus, inspected the two lines.

The Illinois Central people have promised Mayor Magrudeo, of Kankakee, that the company will build a new depot at that point, to cost $20,000 or more.

Findlay Republican: "Chief Dispatcher Johnson, of the Tangent Line, will move from Fort Wayne into the Moore's house, on Washington avenue, today."

After a week's illness J. Garrison, a painter, has returned to work in the Pittsburg shops.

William Heine has recovered from an illness and resumed his place in the Pittsburg tank shop.

No. 133 a class S locomotive, was turned out of the Pittsburg shops today almost as good as new.

U. S. Meeks has been transferred from the winding department to the arc lamp department of the electric works

Major Garrison, an engineer on the Grand Rapids, is entertaining a young son, who arrived at his home last night.

The Bass works has completed a powerful pair of steam shears for use in a boiler-plate mill and will send them to Pittsburg in a few days.

Superintendent J. B. Barnes, of the Wabash motive power department, arrived in the city this morning and will remain here two or three days.

Charley Schmidt, who had the misfortune to lose his mother a week ago, resumed his place in the office at the Pittsburg car shops this morning.

E. Dehne, the pattern maker who was stricken with paralysis several weeks ago, has recovered sufficiently to resume his duties in the Pittsburg shops this morning.

There are many shopmen out after quail today, among the number being Charles A. Agster, of the electric works, who is one of the most enthusiastic of Nimrods.

B. F. Mason, of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton, a traveling passenger agent frequently seen in this city, has tendered his resignation to take effect immediately.

Tomorrow William Hille and Miss Carrie Ziegler will be married. The young man is a machinist and is employed at the Bass works. He has taken a two weeks' vacation.

Uncle Jimmy Hewes, foreman of the Pittsburg boiler shop, who has been suffering with rheumatism, is resting easier, though he has not been able to leave the house for several days.

William White, assistant foreman of the Pennsylvania company's Wellsville shops, is circulating among old friends in this city. A few years ago, Mr. White was employed in the shops in this city.

Drs. C. B. Stemen, Miles F. Porter and W. H. Meyers will leave this evening for St. Louis, Mo., to attend the meeting of the Wabash railway surgeons, the program of which appeared in the Journal last week.

The new bridge on the Cincinnati division of the Big Four over the Whitewater was completed on Saturday, and on Sunday trains commenced running over it. The structure is of iron and 212 feet in length.

Peru Chronicle: "J. L. Head, claim agent of the Wabash railroad, is wearing a brand new suit which he won in a shooting contest at Fort Wayne. Mr. Head is one of the crack shots of this section of the country."

Extensive preparations are being made by the Wabash for the Lutheran excursion to Huntington next Sunday. Lutherans always turn out liberally on occasions of this character and the railway company expects to handle a big crowd.

C. F. Stahl, an employe of the Pittsburg, had one of his legs cut and bruised yesterday between two trucks. While the wound is painful and will disable Mr. Stahl for a time, he is thankful that he escaped more serious injury. He resides at No. 48 St. Martin street.

J. C. Manara, the well known Pittsburg shopman, has returned to his shop duties after a three or four weeks' stay in Michigan. He has leased his farm for three years and will devote his entire time to the shop during that term.

The Illinois Central will pay more attention to handling live stock shipped from southern points to the Chicago market, and is now having built by the Pullman company 200 stock cars. The Pullman company is also building two cafe cars on a new plan for this company, and seven new postal cars sixty feet in length, constructed on the most modern plan

Nickel Plate engine 175, which had been hauling passenger trains Nos. 3 and 4 between this city and Bellevue, has gone to the Stony Island shops for light repairs and her place on the road is being filled by engine 06

The fuel and interlocking signal tests on the Nickel Plate continue. Yesterday an engine brought a train of thirty-three loaded gondolas down from Bellevue in seven hours. The tonnage of the train was between 1,100 and 1,200. This is considered good time for so heavy a train.

John Slater, of the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, suggests as a part of the program for the cornerstone laying the playing of the national anthem "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," by the united bands who will be assembled here on that occasion. Such would, indeed, be appropriate and patriotic

The ladies' auxiliary to the O. R. C., who will give an oyster supper and entertainment next Tuesday evening, is endeavoring to eclipse all previous events of a like nature, and with this end in view is sparing no pains nor expense in the arrangements. A very attractive program will be gotten up and carried out.

Frank Vaelon and Frederick Nohrwald are off duty, the former on account of sickness and the latter with a lame foot, which was injured by the damper of an ash pan falling upon it. F. Grossenbacher and Charles Handenschild, who had been on the sick list, have reported for duty. All of these men are employed in the Pittsburg boiler shop.

President James McCrea, Vice President Joseph Woods, General Manager J. H. P. Hughart and several of the division officers of the Grand Rapids and Indiana, arrived in the city at 11 o'clock today, coming from Richmond. After a short stay here they left for Grand Rapids. The trip over the line is being made on a special train.

Findlay Republican: "Mrs. A. Strausz, wife of Traveling Auditor Strausz, of the Tangent Line; Mrs. J. Rexworth, wife of Stenographer Rexworth, of the auditor's office, and Mrs. J. F. Barnd, wife of Assistant General Freight and Passenger Agent Barnd, were in the city Monday in search of houses. They hope to move to this city next week."

The Pennsylvania company has just issued a dainty monogram of the "Pennsylvania limited." It is unique in that it is illustrated by reproductions of photographs of actual scenes in a train which is making fifty miles an hour. Every phase of a passenger's life has been caught by a clever photographer, and the result is an interesting camera story of a trip from Chicago to New York

INDIANA CHARITIES.

Annual Meeting of the State Conference in Evansville.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Nov. 9.—The state conference of Charities and Correction opened here at the Grand Opera house last night. Delegates were welcomed by Mayor Akin and John Gilbert Shanklin.

Responses were made by Father Gavisk, of Indianapolis; Judge Davis, of Terre Haute; Professor Fetter, of the State university, and Timothy Nicholson, of Richmond. The principal address was made by Governor Mount.

T. J. Charlton, superintendent of the reform school for boys, also made an address. E. P. Bicknell, of Indianapolis, outlined the work for the coming year. During Governor Mount's address he spoke of the great growth of the benevolent and penal institutions of Indiana, and further outlined his policy on their economical management.

The banks of the city will close at noon on Wednesday, November 17, on account of the ceremonies of laying the corner stone of the new court house.

AN INTERESTING HOUSE.

A Maine Residence, Once Destined to Be the Home of Marie Antoinette.

One of the interesting houses in New England and perhaps the most interesting house in all Maine is the "Marie Antoinette House." Its owner is Capt. Clough, who sailed the Ship Sally on foreign voyages. During the French revolution he was engaged by friends of King Louis and Marie Antoinette to bring them secretly to this country. His house, now known as the Marie Antoinette House, had been especially prepared for them and stood on the northern end of Squam Island, in the Sheepscott River, twelve miles from its mouth.

Capt. Clough waited in a French port, with sails all set and anchor chains hove taut, for the arrival of his royal passengers. The wardrobe of the royal pair was already on board and the King and Queen had arrived at the pier ready to embark when agents of the revolution arrived and stopped them. What followed is a matter of history. The King and Queen were guillotined.

Capt. Clough's descendants have a portion of the royal wardrobe now, and any one curious enough to visit the place may see it.

Gold Mines in Their Feet.

Bicycle riders of the winning type don't need to go to the Klondike—they have gold mines in their feet. Last year the stars of the race track made more than the average bank president, physician or lawyer. Bald, Cooper and Sanger probably earned about $10,000 apiece for last season's work.

Cooper was a drug clerk before he commenced racing and worked from 7 in the morning till midnight for $12 a week. His winnings last year averaged $110 a race.

Six years ago Eddie "Cyclone" Bald wielded a cleaver in his father's butcher store in Buffalo. He has since put that establishment on a large scale by his winnings on the path. He expects to make $20,000 this year.

Walter Sanger's father was a lumber merchant of Wisconsin who lost all his money by investments. Sanger was able by his racing money to support the family, but he took out a life insurance policy for $20,000 on his father's life. The old Sanger died this year, and his son's winnings have come into possession of the estate.

Women Need Not be Discouraged.

The nervous tension under which most of our women constantly live affects the female organism seriously. Heavy household burdens, social gayeties, work in some commercial establishment, any of these duties seem impossible to women who are ill and yet they keep up for a time under pressure of the demands upon them. When they do break down, the advice and treatment they receive from their family physician don't go to the root of the trouble and they get no better. They are discouraged, worn out, tired of life. The great specialist in women's diseases, Dr. Greene, of Nervura fame, has shown thousands of women who thought themselves hopeless invalids the way to health by his wonderful curative medicines. The office of Dr. Greene's remedies, 148 State street, Chicago, Ill., is open to all women for free consultation and advice, or if you will write about your case, advice will be given you by mail absolutely free of all cost and confidentially. The glorious remedies discovered by this profound physician are an invaluable boon to women. It costs nothing to be put on the road to health, and all ailing women should write at once.

WANT ALL THE LAND.

Waterworks Trustees Do Not Approve of Council's Action.

Street Railway Company Granted More Time to Provide Fenders—Other Municipal Business.

The common council met in regular session last evening. The first matter to come up was a petition from the Consolidated Street Railway company, asking for more time to provide fenders for cars They were granted an extension to April 1, of next year.

The waterworks trustees, in a communication, said they differed with the council in the matter of purchasing land for waterworks purposes They want all the land first considered for purchase, as the seven pieces selected will not be large enough to insure a supply. The communication was filed.

Councilmen Purcell and Schuler introduced a resolution in which they suggested that the mayor name a committee to look for a suitable location for the markets The resolution was adopted and Mayor Scherer appointed Councilmen Purcell, Scheid and Mohr as the committee.

Councilman Mohr introduced a resolution to the effect that the committee on rules, regulation and ordinances be instructed to consider what is to go in the new franchise that is to be granted the gas company. The present franchise expires in about a year and Mr. Mohr stated that he thought it wise that the matter be given plenty of thought. The resolution was passed.

A communication was received from the comptroller, in which he stated that he had to get abstracts for the land that was bought by the city for waterworks purposes. This cost $107 and the comptroller suggested that it be paid by the waterworks department.

A resolution was introduced and passed to the effect that the waterworks department and the gas company be instructed to place their sidewalk plugs on a level with the sidewalks.

The turn to the right ordinance was read the second time and a motion was made by Councilman Purcell to table the ordinance, as there is already a state law to that effect. The motion was carried.

Of Interest to Fort Wayne Musicians.

The Fort Wayne Organ company has purchased the entire stock of small musical instruments and sheet music of the Fort Wayne Music company, and have engaged the services of Mr. Harry Achenbach to conduct a small goods and sheet music department at the retail store of the Packard Piano and Organ company, 120 Calhoun street, Schmitz block.

Their stock will be the largest and most complete in the city, consisting of Guitars, Mandolins, Violins, Music Boxes, Autoharps and Harmonicas, and, in fact, all small musical instruments and a complete catalogue of all standard music and instruction books, together with all new and popular hits as they appear. Of these we shall make a specialty.

Mr. Achenbach extends a cordial invitation to all his former patrons to visit him at his new quarters, and we trust the music-loving people of this vicinity will favor us with at least a share of their patronage.

Come in and examine our stock and compare our prices.

HORRIBLE TALE.

Mrs. Nack Tells of the Guldensuppe Murder.

Enticed the Man to the Woodside Cottage

Where Thorne Was Lying in Wait for Him.

Sent Her Victim In and Heard the Fatal Shot.

Carried the Dead Man's Clothes From the House

While Her Accomplice in the Crime Bore the Head of Guldensuppe Away and Dropped It in the River.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The startling announcement in the morning papers that Mrs. Nack had confessed the murder of William Guldensuppe and implicated her lover, Martin Thorn, was confirmed when court was assembled by Judge A. A. Weller, who is assisting District Attorney Youngs in the prosecution. Thorn's lawyers were very reticent on the subject, but when Judge Weller was questioned on the truth of the rumor by an Associated Press reporter he replied:

"Yes, she has; there is no doubt about it."

"Will she be produced in court today as a witness?"

"That I can't say; you had best see the district attorney."

Lawyer William F. Howe arrived at the court house at a quarter to 9 o'clock. He was met at the entrance by a representative of the Associated Press.

"Is it a fact, Mr. Howe, that Mrs. Nack has made a confession?" he was asked.

"I don't know," he replied, with a shake of his massive frame. Then he continued: "All I do know is the news I received from Mr. Friend last night. Thank God," he exclaimed with dramatic fervor, "I never did such a thing, and I have been practicing for thirty-five years."

"Did what, Mr. Howe?" asked the reporter.

For a moment the big lawyer looked bored, and then he roared so that all within 100 feet of him could have heard:

"Allow a client to confess against whom there was absolutely no testimony."

Judge Smith accompanied by District Attorney Walter Jay Cox of Suffolk county, took his seat on the bench when the hour for opening court arrived. The twelve jurymen then took their places in the jury box, and Thorn, handcuffed to Captain Methven, came in a minute later and shook hands with his counsel. The latter informed the prisoner for the first time of the confession of Mrs. Nack and Thorn's face flushed. Mr. Howe handed his client a copy of the morning paper bearing a large headline which read: "Mrs. Nack has turned state's evidence."

Thorn gazed at it intently and then handed back the paper. At sixteen minutes to 10 o'clock the main door of the court house opened and Mrs. Nack, accompanied by her lawyer and Deputy Sheriff Debragga, walked up the center of the court. Thorn eyed her closely as she stood within a yard of him, but she avoided his gaze. She was soon placed on the stand, and under the administration of Judge Weller, began the recital of her story, leading up to the time that she had left her husband and was living with Guldensuppe at 439 Ninth avenue.

Guldensuppe was known there as her husband. Thorn came there to board. Thorn and Guldensuppe had a fight and Guldensuppe licked Thorn. Guldensuppe kicked Thorn downstairs. Thorn pulled a revolver and fired one shot at Guldensuppe, but did not hit him.

"After fourteen days," said Mrs. Nack, "a man came to my house for Thorn's clothes. I told the man that Thorn was sick in the hospital, but gave him the clothes. Thorn came back three days later with his face and eyes black and blue and his neck swollen. He asked me for money."

"Why did he ask you for money?" asked Judge Weller.

"He got no work and I gave him money," replied Mrs. Nack in broken English. "When Thorn went away I promised to pay his board bill until he could get work. I met Thorn after this at Twenty-third street and Ninth avenue, when I gave him $20. Thorn was very bitter against Guldensuppe and wanted to kill him. Thorn said: 'Woman, I love you.' I said: 'I am a married woman.' 'I know better; you are not,' replied Thorn; 'your husband lives in a story.'"

"Thorn again said he wanted to kill Guldensuppe. I said: 'Martin, don't kill Guldensuppe; no, kill me.' One day I had another talk with Thorn, and he again said he would kill Guldensuppe. I said no, he said yes. One night Thorn and I quarreled. Martin grabbed me by the throat and held me till blood came from my nose and mouth. I then had a talk with Thorn about hiring a house at Woodside. We went out to see the house and Thorn offered the woman who had the key money, but she would not take it. We then returned to the saloon in New York. This man owned the Woodside house and Thorn paid him $15 in cash for one month's rent of the Woodside house. I think Thorn gave the name of Braun when he hired the house. Thorn took the receipt and told the landlord he did not know when he would move in. Then Thorn told me we would kill Guldensuppe in the Ninth avenue house and put his body in a trunk and send it away. I said, 'No, don't do that.' Thorn then told me to bring Guldensuppe to the Woodside house and he would kill him there. I had to do all Martin told me to."

Gradually the lawyer led the witness up to the morning of Friday, June 25, the day that the crime was committed. She said she and Guldensuppe left New York between 9 and 10 o'clock that morning and after they had crossed the ferry they boarded a trolley car, which left them at the Woodside cottage.

"I had the key of the house," she said, "and I opened the front door. I told Guldensuppe to enter and examine the house while I went into the yard. He went up stairs and I heard a shot. Martin Thorn came running down and when he met me he said, 'I've shot him; he is dead.' He was very excited and I was half dead," said the self-confessed murderess breathlessly.

"What did you do then?" asked Judge Weller.

"He asked me to go home and come back at 5 o'clock. When I came back that evening Thorn had everything packed in bundles. He handed me a bundle which he said contained Guldensuppe's clothes and he took another bundle which was wrapped up in gray colored paper. He said that it was Guldensuppe's head and that it was done up in plaster paris. We took the trolley car and went over to New York on a ferry boat."

"On which ferry?"

"I don't know; I am a stranger to the city and can't say. When we reached New York I went home and Thorn went some other place. I cut open the bundle and found clothes."

"Whose clothes?" asked the prosecutor.

"William Guldensuppe's," replied the woman emphatically. "I saw Thorn that evening again and he told me to meet him the following morning (Saturday) at Thirty-fourth street ferry."

"Where had he put the head?"

"I don't know; he only told me that he had done away with it. I met him the next day at Thirty-fourth street ferry, and then we arranged about hiring a carriage." The woman then told in detail how the other packages were brought in the surrey and dropped in the river and the Ogden woods, near High Bridge. The woman spoke fairly intelligible English, with a very strong German accent. During the recital, Thorn's lawyers left their accustomed seats near the prisoner and were accommodated with chairs closer to the witness.

Thorn listened to every word with his lips closely compressed, his hands clasped and resting on his knees. Frequently his lips became dry and parched and occasionally he would moisten them with his tongue. His face bore that same stolid look of indifference which it has worn all through, but his eyes were unrestful. When he was not gazing at his accuser, he was casting furtive glances around the court room and up into the galleries, which were crowded with men and women.

During her direct examination, Mrs. Nack broke down and cried, but this had no effect on the prisoner and if anything, he seemed to enjoy her discomforture, as the old time grin played about his mouth. Howe began his cross examination in a very insinuating way and soon made her acknowledge that the house in Woodside was rented for the sole purpose of killing Guldensuppe there, that she decoyed him there, that when she bought the oil cloth and other wrappings it was for the purpose of packing up the portions of his body after Thorn would have finished his murderous task.

Adroitly and cleverly the lawyer made the woman own up to the most damning and cold blooded preparations for getting rid of her lover.

"Did you cry then?" asked the cross examiner.

"No."

"Did you cry when you aired the house?"

"No."

The lawyer continued this line of inquiry leading up to the moment of the murder getting the same stolid "no" for an answer each time.

"And now, may I ask, did you cry when Thorn told you he had shot your lover Guldensuppe?" asked Thorn's counsel.

Mrs. Nack's eyes filled up and she replied:

"Yes, I did cry then. I could not help it."

"What did you do when you first came to this country—what was your occupation?"

"Midwife," was the reply.

"How many children did you kill, Mrs. Nack?" was the next question.

"I never killed one to my knowledge, and I can prove it by doctors," answered the woman with much emphasis.

Several other questions in this vein followed, to all of which the witness replied with positive denials.

Mr. Howe departed from the court room for a few minutes, during which time Lawyer Moss and the prisoner held an earnest consultation. Thorn seemed to be very deeply interested and whispered to his counsel with lips close to the latter's ear. Mrs. Nack, in reply to Mr. Howe, acknowledged that while in the Queens county jail she wrote a letter to Thorn.

"Did you begin the letter with the words, 'My dear boy?'"

The witness would not say whether those were the words or not.

"You said today that you never were intimate with Thorn, that you only loved him because he threatened you, and because he was a gentleman. Now this letter was written three months after the murder, and you loved him still when you used those words in the letter?"

The witness nodded an assent.

Attorney Weller showed Mrs. Nack four photographs of Guldensuppe's, which she identified. He asked:

"Why do you make this statement?"

Mrs. Nack replied: "I don't want to have it on my mind."

Then she began to cry. She tossed about in the witness chair, used her handkerchief and sobbed for some time. Her emotion affected nearly everyone in the court room. It was some minutes before she resumed her testimony and she then said:

"I make this statement of my own free will. I want to get it off my conscience. No promise of mercy has been made me. I wanted to clear my mind. I don't care what happens to me or what they do with me."

TRAINS COLLIDE.

Six Persons Injured, One Will Die.

The Ill-fated Trains a Passenger on the Eastern Illinois and a Milk Train on the Wabash.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—Chicago and Eastern Illinois passenger train No. 12, bound for Chicago, collided with a milk train on the Wabash railroad at Hammond junction and Eighty-sixth street today while both trains were going at high speed. Six persons were seriously injured.

Engineer Stoner, of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois, will probably die. The other five will recover. A misplaced switch caused the wreck.

The injured are:

John Stoner, ribs crushed, leg broken.

A. K. McCrea, brakeman, Chicago and Eastern Illinois, right arm crushed.

Mrs. Bessie Richards, Carmen, Ill., head cut, body bruised.

Mrs. Louise Austerman, Beecher, Ill., bruised and cut.

John Skoolstra, Chicago, head cut and bruised.

C. Perequet, Chicago, right arm crushed.

WILL FIGHT TRUST.

Plans Laid to Down the Great Sugar Combine.

Everything Will be in Readiness by January 1—Beet Sugar Refineries in the Big Deal.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—The Chronicle says: Plans have been perfected and assurance is given that everything will be in readiness for fighting the sugar trust on January 1, when the five year contract of the Hawaiian planters at the western sugar refinery will expire. It will continue to handle that portion of the crop, say from 40,000 to 50,000 tons which Claus Spreckles can control. Of the remainder of 225,000 tons 150,000 will be placed on the market by the California Beet Sugar and Refining company, in which Welch & Co., George W. McNear and their friends are the principal elements. Of the 150,000 tons of raw island sugar 90,000 tons will be sent to New York, where it has already been sold to refineries independent of the trust. The remaining 60,000 tons will be refined at the California Beet Sugar and Refinery company's works at Crockett, on the Straits of Carquinez.

HANGS FRIDAY.

Judge Bahrs Settles Durrant's Case.

The Murderer of Blanche Lamont and Minnie Williams Has Only Two Days More of Life.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—Theodore Durrant, the condemned murderer of Miss Blanche Lamont and presumably slayer of Miss Williams, was taken before Judge Bahrs today for the purpose of having the date for his execution reset.

His attorneys made a desperate attempt to secure further delay but Judge Bahrs brushed aside all their technical objections and ordered that Durrant be hanged on Friday next.

Mayor Butterworth Better.

CUMBERLAND, O., Nov. 10.—Mayor Butterworth's condition changed for the better during last night and his physicians today believe he has passed the crisis and will recover, unless something unforeseen occurs.

LIKE A MARTYR

Faith Curist Smith Trudged Off to Jail.

Justice Bullerman Declared Him Guilty of Neglecting His Sick Child—An Unusual Case.

"I won't appeal the case; I won't pay the fine. Take me to jail."

So spake Henry Smith, faith curist, when at the conclusion of his trial Justice Bullerman had assessed a fine against the man for cruelly neglecting to provide proper medical treatment for his sick child.

Smith was arrested yesterday afternoon at his home five miles from the city. He spent the night in town, being out on his own recognizance. He was arraigned for trial at 10 o'clock this morning before Justice Bullerman. Deputy Prosecutor Thomas conducted the case for the state. Police Lieutenant Henry Lapp, Humane Officer Louis Schlundroff, Dr. E. J. McOscar and the defendant were all the persons who gave any testimony. The officers testified as to the facts already made public concerning the illness of Smith's twelve year-old daughter, Effie, with typhoid pneumonia, and of the condition of the patient when they had visited her. Dr. McOscar testified as to the present condition of the patient and gave it as his opinion that proper medical treatment would have probably prevented the impairment of the girl's mind and her hearing.

Smith himself was on the witness stand for a long time and gave his story of his conversion to the faith cure, and quoted the Scriptures for his authority. He said that he formerly led a wicked life and that he drank and occasionally got into trouble. He was converted and thenceforward took the Bible as his only guide. Of his conversion to the faith cure he told an interesting story of having suffered for many years from dyspepsia without any physicians affording him relief. Once in church, he said, he had shocked the minister and congregation by announcing his belief that the Lord was going to cure him. He thought no more of the matter for a period of three weeks, when one day while in the field it occurred to him that his dyspepsia was gone. He says it has never come back. Since then he has been an ardent believer in the faith cure. Smith then read from the Bible he had brought with him the 13th, 14th and 15th verses of the fifth chapter of James, which he claimed as the foundation of his belief in the faith cure. He said that he believed it would be a slur on God to call a physician for his sick daughter when he believed the Lord would take care of her.

On more minute examination by Prosecutor Thomas, Smith disclosed some curious things in his belief. He declared his belief that God would take care of a fractured leg, mend a broken skull and heal a leg that had been mangled by a locomotive. He admitted that when his stock was sick he called a veterinary surgeon and had recently done so. But for his children he would have no physician and frankly, even with some exultation declared so. He admitted all the facts alleged against him, even that his daughter had suffered from delirium so violent that two persons were required to hold her in bed.

After Deputy Prosecutor Thomas had briefly addressed the court and Dr. McOscar had made a brief statement, Justice Bullerman assessed a fine of $5 and costs, $17.50 in all. Smith protested only that he was obeying a higher law than man's.

When the mittimus was made out Smith started to jail with great cheerfulness, confident of his martyrdom and no doubt disappointed that he had not been condemned to the stake.

ANOTHER MARTYR.

Mrs. Amanda Baird Violates Sanitary Laws

And is Fined in the Sum of Fifty Dollars—Diphtheria Patients Christian Science Treatment.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 10.—Mrs. Amanda J. Baird, the Christian science healer, was fined $50 in police court today for failing to report to the board of health a case of diphtheria she was treating. Mrs. Baird immediately signed bond, appealing the case to the criminal court. H. Kinney, the father of Mae E. Kinney, who died under Mrs. Baird's Christian science treatment, signed the bond. The parents of the dead child were among the first to shake hands with Mrs. Baird after the conviction.

FORTUNE A MYTH.

Vice President Hobart Knows Nothing of Lumbay Clark's Millions.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—The $25,000,000 fortune of the late Lumbay Clark, which Miss Grace M. Elliott, of this city, expected to inherit seems to have been a myth. Vice President Hobart and Governor Griggs, of New Jersey, whose names are used in connection with the story, gave no credence to it and disclaim all knowledge of the case, in which it was stated they had been engaged by eastern heirs of the dead miner.

The Carroll Reading club will meet Thursday with Mrs. Louis Gaulhre.

A MISER'S END.

Death of Charles Pearcy, a Queer Character in Chicago.

Was Thought to be Poor But Left Wealth to the Amount of $50,000.

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 10.—Charles Pearcy, who for fifteen years was a familiar figure on West Madison street, is dead. He was old, at least fifty-five, when he took his lodging in a little room at 771 West Madison street. He lived the life of a recluse from the beginning. At times he did his own cooking; sometimes he ate in the cheap restaurants of the neighborhood. He never did any work; neither did he ever seem to be in actual want. He made no friends; he believed no one—all he asked was to be let alone. Yet there were things about the old man that provoked curiosity. He gave signs of having seen better days. The busybodies kept up their prying until they discovered that the old had come to Chicago from Virginia. Next they learned he had a brother somewhere in that state who was a county clerk or something of the kind. Still later it was reported that he had another brother in New York who was rich. But the old man would not talk about himself and would neither affirm nor deny these reports. Although living the life of a miser, an investigation of his room after his death shows that he was wealthy. The room was shabbily furnished and littered with all sorts of odds and ends. The chances of finding anything seemed slight, but from all sorts of impossible places government bonds, money in small amounts, two watches, a memoranda showing deposits in various banks to the amount of $3,000 and other valuables were dragged out. The total amount of his wealth is estimated at between $45,000 and $50,000.

VINCENT QUITS.

The Noted Lawyer Drops Out of the Luetgert Case.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—Attorney William A. Vincent has withdrawn from the Luetgert case. He sent a letter to the prisoner yesterday announcing his determination to sever his connection with the defense. Luetgert received the communication with indifference and said that he was satisfied. Then he and Attorney Phalen, who will now have charge of the trial, held a conference.

Shortly after Mr. Phalen's talk with Luetgert the attorney called on State's Attorney Deneen and agreed that he would meet him again today for the purpose of setting a definite time for the hearing of the case and selecting a judge who will be satisfactory to prosecution and defense. It is now believed that the case will be set for trial during this month.

AURORA, Ill., Nov. 10.—Mrs. A. L. Luetgert, wife of the Chicago sausagemaker, is reported to have been in this vicinity recently. The news of her appearance here was carried to Chicago by a traveling man who claimed to have seen her. A detective was sent here to search for the missing woman. It is rumored that relatives of Mrs. Luetgert live near Sigel, south of here.

IN THE WILDS.

A Bad Bare Knuckle Fight Pulled Off Near Walla Walla, Washington.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Nov. 10.—A notable prize fight has taken place on a farm near the state line six miles south of here, between Cassidy, of San Francisco, and Murphy, of Salt Lake, before a large crowd from Walla Walla, Pendleton and LaGrande. The men were evenly matched, Cassidy weighing 145 and Murphy 150 pounds. Fifteen rounds were fought and from the first Cassidy had the best of it, knocking Murphy down in nearly every round. In the fifteenth round when Cassidy had Murphy almost done for, he gave Murphy an opening and the latter landed a terrific right hand blow on Cassidy's chin, knocking him out. Murphy was badly punished while Cassidy showed only a few marks. The fight was for $250 a side.

NEGRO ASYLUM BURNED.

Seven Hundred Patients at Milledgeville, Ga., Removed in Safety.

MILLEDGEVILLE, GA., Nov. 10.—The negro building of the state lunatic asylum caught fire yesterday afternoon. The east end of the building was soon destroyed and the flames then attacked the remainder of the building.

The city fire department went to work with its full force and the Macon department was telegraphed for. The 700 patients in the building were saved by the heroic work of the citizens and firemen.

A very high wind was blowing, but the adjoining buildings were declared free from danger. The origin of the fire is unknown. The loss will be $25,000, fully covered by insurance.

AMONG THE MISSING.

Indicted North Dakota Banker Believed To Be in Canada.

GRAND FORKS, N. D., Nov. 10.—Ex-State Treasurer Booker is among the missing. Sometime ago Booker was indicted by the federal grand jury for making a fraudulent report to the comptroller of the currency on the condition of the Grand Forks National bank of which he was president. When his case was called in the United States court Booker failed to respond and his bonds were declared forfeited. Officers have been unable to find him and the supposition is that he is now in Canada. The Grand Forks National bank failed two years ago. Booker was at one time reported to be worth $1,000,000.

THE FAIR WILL.

Sixteen More Contests Soon to be Filed.

The Three Daughters are Certain to Bring Suits Against the Trust Will—The Widow in the Fight.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—Within a few days sixteen more contests are to be filed in the superior court against the trust will of the late James G. Fair. This will is dated September 21, 1894, and the original was stolen from the county clerk's office and never recovered. There is certain to be a suit brought by the three children, Mrs. Herman Oelrichs, Miss Virginia Fair and Chas. L. Fair. Mrs. Nettie Craven will probably file a second, and a third may be commenced in the name of the alleged grandchild of the deceased millionaire. The contests will be commenced upon the grounds that ex-Senator Fair was incompetent or insane at the time he made the trust will and that he was acting under undue influence and duress. Mrs. Craven's suit will probably be brought by her as the widow of the ex-senator. Judge Slack's decision places her in such a position that she must fight the trust will if she expects to get anything at all. The contest will be upon the same general grounds as that of the three children. It is stated that the contest of the heirs will be brought to obtain relief in case Judge Slack is reversed by the supreme court in his ruling, destroying the trust clause in the will.

NEWS OF THE COURTS.

O. N. Heaton, as commissioner in the partition suit of Vesey vs. Gillette, has filed his report in the superior court, showing that he has disposed of the property in litigation for $2,500.

The argument in the Mentzer divorce suit was to have been taken up today in the superior court, but has been postponed until Friday, owing to pressure of other important business in that court.

Mrs. Gorsline, matron of the Door of Hope, and John Schnetzer left this morning for Indianapolis, having in charge the Frederickson and Trevert girls, who were sentenced to the female reformatory in that city.

A lunacy commission, consisting of Justices Tancey and Bullerman and Drs. Easley and Porter, today adjudged Columbus T. Wilson to be of unsound mind. He has been taken to the county infirmary, pending his removal to the insane hospital.

John Wambaugh, an incorrigible youth, will be tried in the circuit court next Monday.

A large steel file case for bonds and wills was received by County Clerk Mottzgar today.

Sheriff Melching reports that Duke, the big trailer bloodhound, is very sick from cold and distemper. The climate does not agree with the man-hunter. Queen, the other dog, is in the best of health.

The circuit court jury is listening to the argument of counsel in the damage suit of Roebuck vs. Klett.

"GOOD CONFESSION."

The meetings at the West Creighton avenue Church of Christ are continuing with great interest and power. Last evening John J. Biggs preached to a large congregation. His subject was "The Good Confession," text Rom. 10:10. "With the Mouth Confession is Made Unto Salvation." The sermon was very plain but full of gospel truths. He said that the good confession was something real and definite, something distinct; it is concerning a divine person and not a confession of some faith gotten up by some infallible person consisting of so many articles, etc. He said no man was ever saved under the gospel or Christian dispensation who did not confess that Jesus Christ was the son of God. For a true reason there is, in the doctrine of the apostles of Christ, an enforcement, an emphasis of the fact that Jesus of Nazareth, was a real appearance of history. It is a fact to be taught and confessed against all tendencies to make Christ a mere influence and sentiment in life. "I believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God." This is the good confession. It was confessed by men as they came in penitence, and faith, to the waters of baptism. "Behold, here is water; what doth hinder me to be baptized?" exclaimed the Ethiopian eunuch. Philip said: "If thou believest with all thy heart thou mayest." And he answered and said: "I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God." The good confession, so simple, so plain, so beautiful. Every knee shall bow and every tongue shall confess to God. The subject for tonight will be "What is Baptism?" Prof. Hackelman, the singing evangelist, will assist in the services. Prof. Hackelman is well known in Indiana as an excellent singer. Do not fail to hear him.

SOLD PATTERNS.

And the Purchasers Were Victims of an Imposition.

Scheme of a Couple of "Agents" to Get Rid of a Cheap Job Lot of Patterns—Amusing Results.

Several days past two smooth young men have been working like bees in Fort Wayne, and as a result of their industry they got rid of a big job lot of cheap patterns worth about twenty-five cents for waste paper. The modus operandi of the scheme which the fellows worked so successfully was this: Permission was secured at several of the big manufacturing concerns to show their goods to clerks and other employes, to whom they represented that they were agents for an extensive eastern house and were introducing a new pattern of a shirt which was "the thing" in swelldom of Gotham, and had met the endorsement of E. Berry Wall, the king of dudes, and others. The sample shown was quite an allurement in itself, and one might imagine that the ghost of Ward McAllister would rise in rapturous admiration for the new pattern. The genteel element was so deeply impressed with the shirt that orders came thick and fast and shekels filled the pockets of the "agents." The sequel is now being developed.

The patterns were delivered last week and immediately thereafter there was a boom in the business of seamstresses, some of whom were deluged with orders. Deliveries were made yesterday at the electric light works, where it is said quite a number of young gentlemen bought patterns, and when the packages were opened the contents did not consist of gents' shirts, but neat little shirt waists for children, the kind of shirt waists that dealers sell for about fourteen cents. The first victim referred the matter to the next man who received a package from the seamstress. He, too, had shirt waists. Then it dawned upon the various young men interested that they had been worked for suckers and had paid fifty cents for a child's shirt waist pattern. An effort was made to hush up the matter, but the pattern agents had worked too extensively to keep it quiet. Many sales were made in the down town district, as well as at the manufacturing establishments, and those who bought them would probably number in the hundreds. They will do well to examine the patterns before sending them to the seamstress to have shirts made up. Unless they do this there will probably be a glut in the shirt waist market at an early day.

SOME MYSTERY.

Strange Case of William Meyer, the Broadway Hatter.

Did Not Return Home Last Night, and Found in a Dazed Condition at His Store This Morning.

William Meyer, the Broadway hatter, did not return to his home after business hours last night, and a search was prosecuted all over the city for him without success. His store was properly locked and a search there was as fruitless as it was elsewhere. This morning when a clerk went into the basement of the store he was amazed to find his employer seated on a box, his eyes open and staring, and apparently helpless. He spoke to him but could get no answer. He then summoned help and Mr. Meyer was conveyed to his home, on Wilt street, where Dr. Proegler attended him. The patient was in a semi-conscious state, too dazed to understand questions intelligibly, and appeared to be in a very serious condition. The symptoms were somewhat similar to asphyxiation, but there seemed to be no escape of gas into the cellar. It is a case that puzzles the physician, who cannot diagnose it clearly until Mr. Meyer is able to talk. No effort will be made to get his story until this evening.

CULTIVATE THE BEET.

A Sugar Beet Club Will be Organized on Corner Stone Day—Commission's Plans.

The committee appointed by the Commercial club to encourage the raising of sugar beets by creating an interest among the farmers, met yesterday afternoon and decided to call a meeting for Wednesday, November 17th, corner stone day, and then effect an organization of a sugar beet club. Immediately after the corner stone exercises a meeting will be held for this purpose at the city hall. Charles F. Muhler, president of the Commercial club, will preside at the meeting and addresses will be made by Alexander Johnson, Charles S. Bash, S. K. Allen and others. Farmers who have raised sugar beets will be asked to relate their experience.

DROPPED DEAD.

Robert J. Hamilton, sr., Suddenly Expires.

He Was Attending to Duties on His Farm When the Summons Came Without Warning.

This morning about 8:30 o'clock Robert J. Hamilton, sr., dropped dead of heart failure at his suburban home, southwest of the city, near the Allen County Orphans' home. Mr. Hamilton went out into the yard to feed the chickens and do other light chores, when he was seen to stagger and fall. When members of the family reached his side he was dead.

Mr. Hamilton was an old resident of the county, and for many years was a prominent citizen of the south side. He was born in Ireland and was seventy years of age. He came to this country in 1835, and soon after his arrival he came to Fort Wayne. He was for many years an employe of the Wabash shops as a machinist, but his advancing age caused him to relinquish those duties for the less arduous ones of light farming, and about ten years ago he settled upon a small farm where he lived up to the time of his death. Mr. Hamilton was a kind husband and father, and was highly respected by all who knew him. The widow and three children survive him. The latter are: Miss E. Louise Hamilton, a teacher in the High school, Fred Hamilton, who attends to the farm, and Robert J. Hamilton, jr., who is city passenger agent of the Nickel Plate. The funeral will occur Sunday afternoon and will be conducted under the auspices of Home lodge, No. 342, F. and A. M., of which the deceased was a member.

THE SAENGERBUND.

New Officers Elected and Annual Reports Heard.

The annual meeting of the Fort Wayne Saengerbund was held last evening in the rooms, on West Main street. After the reports of the officers had been received, the following officers were elected:

President, William Hahn; vice president, M. Steinert; secretary, Theodore Brueck; financial secretary, Albert Wiese; treasurer, Gottlieb Unger; archiver, Barney Krull; flag bearers, Casper Hartung and William Kastel; trustees, Al. Richter, John Lehman and Charles Jacobs.

There was a large attendance, and the proposition to give an entertainment and social for the members and their friends on Thanksgiving eve met with hearty endorsement. The entertainment will be on a large scale, and a fine program will be arranged. A committee, consisting of Gottlieb Unger, T. Miller and William Kastel, was appointed to make the arrangements for the affair.

Y. M. C. A.

The Fort Wayne Branch Reorganized.

W. E. Clapham, president of the Fort Wayne Young Men's Christian association, has re-appointed the city department committee of management for the ensuing year, and the following will serve at the Railroad department:

R. E. Doty, chairman; A. H. Polhamus, Hiram A. Philley, E. S. Philley, C. H. Newton, A. D. Craig, C. B. Stenson, Amos Sine, S. F. Bowser, W. W. Olmstead, J. R. Mcleher, James Trythall, C. H. Chapman, F. M. Mank, N. R. Whitsell, Chas. Yagerlehner and W. A. S. Parry.

The new committee met on Monday evening, and completed their organization, by electing the following officers:

Vice Chairman—H. A. Philley.
Treasurer—C. H. Newton.
Recording Secretary—W. W. Olmstead.

Chairman Doty appointed the following gentlemen chairmen of the several committees:

Devotional—Hiram A. Philley.
Membership—Amos Sine.
Reception—Charles Yagerlehner.
Rooms—E. S. Philley.
Educational Class Work—C. H. Newton.
Visitation of Sick and Injured—A. D. Craig.
Library—C. H. Chapman.
Music—W. A. S. Parry.
Finance—C. H. Newton.

Twenty-two applications for membership were presented at this meeting.

Special meetings will be held during next week, on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings, to which everybody is cordially invited. These meetings will be held throughout the world in observance of the week of prayer for young men. City pastors will deliver addresses.

POSTMASTERS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—President McKinley this morning named the following postmasters for Indiana towns:

Goshen, Milton A. Cornell.
Kokomo, Thomas T. Whiteker.
Monticello, William W. McColloch.
Notre Dame, William Corby.
Seymour, Philip Wilhelm.

Fort Wayne needs a curfew law. Policemen will all subscribe to this.

A year ago the Kentucky legislature had a republican majority. There are now 100 silver democrats and thirty five republicans in that body.

Miss Cisneros seems to have been worth saving. The young lady is showing remarkably good sense by keeping out of sight as much as her friends will let her.

Extravaganza on the part of physicians in charge of the insane hospitals for women in the City of Mexico to discover some safe narcotic which should produce sleep have resulted in bringing into daily use in that institution a simple remedy prepared from the root of white aged. It produces a tranquil sleep, and since it has been used no deaths from cerebral congestion have been known there.

Young Jack Logan's Chicago horse show quit Logan some $25,000 loser, but young Jack had a chance to win a grand triumph over the state board of agriculture, and that was worth the price, inasmuch as young Jack does not have to pay the freight.

Now that Alton, Ill., has got through the ceremonies of dedicating a monument to that grand old man of the abolitionists, Elijah P. Lovejoy, her people can resume the war on the colored school children of the place and make them flock by themselves.

Those Georgia legislators are not guilty of bad philosophy in choosing of two evils the lesser. They propose to abolish foot ball and favor prize fighting. Operations in the prize ring may not be quite so artistic nor in as good form as foot ball, but it's some degrees less fatal.

An enterprising Chicago restaurant man printed this clever morsel on his bills of fare last week: "Julia Marlowe, now at the Columbia theater, is a leader, and so are our New England boiled dinners, 15 cents. Go and see her and then look at our pigs' feet and cabbage, 10 cents."

An American consul in Argentina makes the prediction that the production of wool in that country has reached the maximum and that American wool growers have no reason to fear increasing competition. At the same time comes the report from Australia that the demand for American sheep in Australia for breeding purposes is constantly and rapidly growing. All this should be good news for the American sheep raisers. Only a short time ago they were much cast down because of the decline in values and profits.

Her Majesty of Italy is, perhaps, the best educated queen in Europe. She is almost as thoroughly conversant with German, French, English and Spanish as she is with her own Italian, besides being both a Latin and a Greek scholar, and she is so fond of Shakespeare that she has written for her own use a little book on his heroines. Queen Margherita is also very familiar with the writings of Ruskin and Darwin among other English writers, besides being well acquainted with European literature generally, and numbers among her studies such subjects as theology, geology and botany.

Curfew Law Needed.

Fort Wayne needs a curfew law—needs it badly. Too many boys and girls of tender years have the privileges of the streets at night until such hours as it suits them to go home. These youngsters have careless parents, whom it is the duty of the city to reach by compelling the juvenile night roysterers to stay off the streets. There is no place where bad habits and vicious practices are so readily schooled into the conduct of youth as in the streets of a city by night. In a vast majority of cases the first step to ruin is merely a careless step. So many such careless steps would not and could not be taken if boys and girls were not permitted the liberty that belongs only to grown folk. A curfew law will drive the boys and girls off the streets at a proper hour and keep them indoors where they belong.

Any one who will take the trouble to observe the number of boys and girls ranging from eight to sixteen years that may be found any night from dark to 10 and 11 o'clock on the down town streets will encounter a source of astonishment. The same is true in a varying degree of all other parts of the city. Hundreds of boys and girls are foolishly given unrestricted freedom, and often it is because the parents are less concerned about the sort of men and women their children shall become than with being bothered with them at home. The crop of criminals will be greatly curtailed and the army of fallen women will be easily diminished if a curfew law is immediately passed and put into effect.

RELIEF POSSIBLE.

Captain McGregor Says an Expedition Can Reach Ice Bound Whalers.

San Francisco, Nov. 9.—Referring to the plans for the rescue of the Arctic whalers, Captain McGregor, the master of the steam whaler Karluk, which recently returned from a cruise in the Arctic, said: "Even if a start were made within a week three months would be the difficulty in reaching Port Clarence. The ice hardly ever shuts in on Port Clarence so as to make it impossible for a start sooner . . . , and then [illegible] before January . . . , it is not possible to reach Point Barrow before June or July next; it will save many lives. It will not be before August next that a vessel can reach the spot where the frozen in whalers are."

WORD CONTEST.

One Hundred Dollars in Cash to be Given Away.

Something to Entertain, Interest and Please the Young, the Old and the Middle Aged.

As the winter evenings are drawing nigh, when the young and old folks will have plenty of time for thought and work, we have discovered a little plan for their entertainment and amusement which will handsomely compensate them for the time and pains they may devote to it. We want to know how many words can be made from the letters, THE FORT WAYNE SENTINEL.

Use each letter as desired, but not more times than it appears in "The Fort Wayne Sentinel." Verbs, pronouns, adjectives, nouns, adverbs, plurals allowed. Words spelled alike, but having different meanings, count as one word. Use any standard dictionary. All legitimate English words count. Proper nouns, prefixes, suffixes, obsolete and foreign words do not count. Work it out as follows: Tar, tray, hat, her, eat, eel, fail, first, etc., etc.

To the person making the largest list of words from the twenty letters found in The Fort Wayne Sentinel we will pay $50; to the second, $25; to the third, $15; to the fourth, $10.

The words must be written on one side of the sheet and numbered and sent to this office addressed to WORD EDITOR.

Not later than December 23, 1897, as the contest closes on the evening of that date. Begin now, but do not send in lists till near the close of the contest, as it is desired that all who engage in this competition shall strive earnestly to win the prize.

This is open to every man, woman and child in Fort Wayne, and Allen county and every county adjoining Allen. No other conditions are imposed; it makes no difference whether you are a subscriber to The Sentinel or not. All are eligible to enter the contest. Tell your neighbors and friends about it.

Rheumatism, Oh the Pain!

The aches and pains of Rheumatism become a constant companion to all who are victims of this disabling disease. Much suffering could be avoided if the first warning pains of Rheumatism were heeded and the proper treatment at once taken. But the people generally are not acquainted with the cause of the disease, though thousands know its tortures. Those who use liniments and ointments cannot understand why they grow worse each winter, and find themselves gradually becoming unable to get around as they once could; yet they know that their trouble came on at first as little aches and pains, which hardly attracted their attention.

Everybody should know more about rheumatism; they should know that it is a peculiar condition of the blood upon which all the liniments in the world can have no effect whatever. The best blood remedy is needed—one which is able to go to the very seat of the disease, and force it out. Swift's Specific (S.S.S.) is the right remedy for Rheumatism, because it is the only blood remedy free from mercury, potash and other minerals which intensify the disease, causing stiffness of the joints and aching of the bones.

Swift's Specific being a real blood remedy never fails to cure Rheumatism. It reaches even the worst cases where the doctors have made cripples with their prescriptions of potash and mercury.

Mr. D. B. Johnson, an extensive lumber dealer of Blackshear, Ga., writes:

"My wife was for years a sufferer from Rheumatism, and was treated constantly, but could obtain no relief. The pain was first felt in her left shoulder, and extended in all directions, increasing in severity. The doctors said the disease was liable to strike the heart at any time, in which event death would be inevitable.

"Every kind of treatment recommended for Rheumatism was given her, [illegible] but none did her any good. She was growing worse all the while, and was reduced to a mere shadow of her former self.

"It was at this critical period that Swift's Specific was given her; the medicine seemed to reach the disease promptly, and she at once began to improve. One dozen bottles effected a complete cure, and she has had no touch of the disease since."

Every one afflicted with Rheumatism should take a remedy which can reach their trouble. S.S.S. will cure the most aggravated case of Rheumatism, Catarrh, Cancer, Contagious Blood Poison, Scrofula, Eczema, or any other blood disease. It is guaranteed

A Hanging.

Bad Bad Experience.

A rural citizen of Georgia who was about to be placed on the jury in a murder case was asked by a lawyer:

"Would you hang a man on circumstantial evidence?"

The would be juror looked thoughtful for a moment and replied:

"Well, sir, I has hung a many of 'em on a good deal less."—Atlanta Constitution.

Hats Necessary.

"I want to buy a case," she said, as she tripped into the store.

"For a young man, I suppose?" asked the polite clerk.

"Yes."

"Did you bring his measure?"

"His measure? I didn't know that a man had to be measured for a case."

"Well, we ought to have the size of his mouth."—New York World.

The Wretched Middle Class.

Doctor—You ought to take that child into the country for several weeks every summer.

Mother—Oh, doctor, I'm sorry to say we are not rich enough.

Doctor—Well, then, have her sent by a fresh air fund.

Mother—But, doctor, we're not poor enough.—Fliegende Blätter.

In the Good Old Days.

"You may talk as you like," said the man who doesn't care for sport, "but there was one good thing about the gladiatorial fights of olden times."

"What was that?"

"The loser never had a chance to write to the papers and explain why he lost."—Boston Traveler.

A Treasure.

Mrs. Wicks—What kind of a girl have you now?

Mrs. Hinks—A very nice one, ever so much nicer than the others. She doesn't seem to object to having us live in the house with her at all.—New York Weekly.

Injustice.

"I always believe in giving the devil his dues," said the young man who affects odd methods of thought.

"Yes," replied his tailor, "but I don't think you have any business discriminating against your other creditors in his favor."—Washington Star.

The Theater of Today.

Budge—The theater is so different from what it was. It is but a fleeting show, so to speak. There's nothing stable about it.

Geographical Facts.

Inquiring Boy—Some of the towns in my geography is in big letters and some in little letters. What's that for, pop?

Pop (a theatrical manager)—The towns in small letters are only one night stands.—New York Weekly.

Doing "stunts."

That seems to be the case with the women who are washing in the old way. You can stand on your head, for instance. Almost everyone could do it, if it were necessary or desirable. But standing on the feet is more natural and more sensible —and easier. So with soap and Pearline. Everyone can wash with soap; many do. But washing with Pearline is easier and more sensible. The hard work of soap is neither necessary nor desirable. Everyone should give up the use of soap and should use Pearline.

Look Out Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you, "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled; if your grocer sends you an imitation, be honest—send it back. JAMES PYLE, New York.

A NEW ROAD.

The Wabash Will Build a Toledo-Chicago Line.

Will Let the Old Road From Toledo to the Indiana State Line be Sold by the Courts.

A telegram from Toledo conveys a bit of railway intelligence which, coming at a time when the question of the control of the Eel River road is in doubt, is of great importance to the citizens of this part of the state. The telegram reads as follows:

TOLEDO, Ohio, Nov. 10.—This city is to have another Chicago line, shorter than the Lake Shore road. It is to be built by the Wabash people.

Authority for the statement that the Wabash is going to build a new line out of Toledo is S. C. Reynolds, a director of the company. It may mean more than a new line. The Wabash has been kept out of the field for Chicago by an agreement with the Lake Shore, which let the Wabash into the Union station. Now, if the Wabash puts in a new Chicago line, it may be compelled to build a new station or go into another. Still another development may be another Detroit line in connection with the Flint and Pere Marquette. The whole matter grew out of the determination of the Wabash to let its line between Toledo and the Ohio and Indiana State line be sold under the Compton judgment. Mr. Reynolds says: "The company has decided not to pay the agreement, but let the Ohio division be sold. It has come to the conclusion that it can better afford to build a new line out of Toledo. This will make a better connection with the system for less money than it will cost to buy the old line under the sale of the court."

Concerning this subject the Toledo Bee says: "It is now practically settled that the Wabash road will construct a new line from Toledo to Montpelier and there connect with the Detroit and Chicago division. The whole matter grew out of the determination of the Wabash to let its line between Toledo and the Ohio and Indiana state line be sold under the famous Compton judgment, which has been in the courts for fifteen years. The total amount of the claim was $550,000."

[illegible]

The fastest run ever made on the New York Central, between Utica and Syracuse, was made Wednesday night by one of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern's new limited trains, which was placed in commission for the first time on that day. The distance of fifty-four miles was covered in just fifty-nine and a half minutes. The Empire State express makes the time in one hour and twelve minutes, which is considered fast time by most people. It has covered the distance in sixty-two minutes. The train as it left New York city was made up of a buffet, smoking car, drawing room car, dining car, double stateroom car and compartment and observation car. At Albany the drawing room car was cut out and two sleepers from Boston were added.

A PASSENGER AGENT DEAD.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 10.—Charles W. Reiff, traveling passenger agent of the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk and the Pennsylvania railroads, died last night at his home in this city from typhoid fever, aged thirty-nine years. Mr. Reiff had been in the service of the two companies for nearly twenty years. He was the inventor and patentee of the 1,000-mile mileage book used by the Pennsylvania and other roads.

AN OPEN MEETING.

Carpenters' union will meet tonight over the Nimrod Hall saloon, 34 East Main street. It will be an open meeting, and several persons not members of the union have been invited to deliver addresses. The Carpenters' union is on the high road to again become a great factor in Fort Wayne labor circles, and everything indicates a boom.

LAMONT WILL SUCCEED HILL.

WALLACE, Idaho, Nov. 10.—It is believed here that Daniel S. Lamont, vice president of the Northern Pacific railroad, will, within two months, succeed President Hill at the head of the Northern Pacific system. The opinion is based on the tone of messages which passed between Lamont and Hill while the former was here recently. The telegraphic correspondence was of such a nature as to indicate that Lamont's trip was solely to acquaint himself with the condition of the road to prepare himself for the broader duties upon which he was about to enter.

TOM HARPER PROMOTED.

T. E. Harper, formerly passenger conductor on the Nickel Plate, has been appointed master of transportation on the Dayton and Lima Northern with headquarters at Lima, Ohio.

Ed Gropp, formerly passenger conductor on the Nickel Plate, has been promoted to passenger conductor in Mr. Harper's place.

BOTTOM KNOCKED OUT.

Vice President Duncan, of the Ohio Falls Car and Manufacturing company, at Jeffersonville, says the bottom is knocked out of the car building business for some time to come. He states as his reason that the freight cars they are now building are about twice the capacity of the old style cars, cost 50 per cent less, and will last twice as long. This cuts quite a figure and he does not expect much of a boom in the business after the railroads become supplied. The concern has about eight hundred cars now under contract.

NEW COACHES FOR LOCAL SERVICE.

Indianapolis Journal: "There is some complaint on the part of local travelers that on through trains much better coaches are used than in local business, while through travel pays but two and one half cents per mile, and local business three cents per mile. One often hears of elegant and very expensive trains being built for the through service, but who ever hears of a new coach or entire new train being put into local service. It is in the local service that the cars which have become dilapidated are placed, new equipment replacing them on the through trains. Persons who thus complain should bear in mind that in through service competition is sharp, while in local traffic there is usually no competition unless it be the electric cars."

DIRECTORS ELECTED.

Last night the Jenney Electric Light and Power company held a meeting and elected directors as follows: R. T. McDonald, John H. Bass, George W. Pixley, Willis Hattersley, Eli Hoffman, Charles Haild and William P. Breen. In a few days the directors will hold a meeting and elect officers.

LOW RATE FOR CORNER STONE DAY.

R. B. Hanna, who was commissioned to secure excursion rates to this city on corner stone laying day, announces that he has been successful. All the railways entering the city will make a rate of one fare for the round trip on that occasion and some of the officials express a willingness to make extra efforts to bring a crowd to Fort Wayne. Low rates to this city on a "week day" is considered by the railways quite a concession, and our citizens should show a due appreciation by making a strenuous effort to draw a crowd.

CHICAGO AND ERIE ELECTION.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Chicago and Erie Railroad company for the election of directors was held at the office of the company in Huntington yesterday. Among the men chosen is Marcus A. Hanna, who figured so conspicuously in the late campaign in Ohio.

HAD HIS HEEL CRUSHED.

Harry G. Krudop, head sawyer at the Hoffman mills, had his left foot caught in the gearing of some shafting this morning and had the heel badly crushed. Dr. McOscar is the attending surgeon.

BRIEF MENTION.

Nickel Plate Conductor J. F. Long is sick.

J. B. Dunne has been appointed superintendent of telegraph of the Southern Pacific line.

The railroad branch of the Y. M. C. A. will next Monday evening begin a week of prayer.

Nickel Plate Fireman O. L. Shoaff has resumed his work after a few days' visit with friends in Chicago.

C. S. Brice, on Saturday, with officials of the Northern Ohio and the Cleveland, Akron and Columbus, inspected the two lines.

The Illinois Central people have promised Mayor Magruder, of Kankakee, that the company will build a new depot at that point, to cost $20,000 or more.

Findlay Republican: "Chief Dispatcher Johnson, of the Tangent Line, will move from Fort Wayne into the Moore's house on Washington avenue, today."

The "[illegible] Girl" company left over the Wabash this morning for Logansport.

A 750 light alternating dynamo left the electric works this morning for Wilmington, Ohio.

After a week's illness J. Starrison, a painter, has returned to work in the Pittsburg shops.

William Heine has recovered from an illness and resumed his place in the Pittsburg tank shop.

No. 130, a class K locomotive, was turned out of the Pittsburg shops today almost as good as new.

C. S. Meeks has been transferred from the winding department to the arc lamp department of the electric works.

Major Garrison, an engineer on the Grand Rapids, is entertaining a young son, who arrived at his home last night.

The Bass works has completed a powerful pair of steam shears for use in a boiler plate mill and will send them to Pittsburg in a few days.

Superintendent J. B. Barnes, of the Wabash motive power department, arrived in the city this morning and will remain here two or three days.

Charley Schmalz, who had the misfortune to lose his mother a week ago, resumed his place in the office at the Pittsburg car shops this morning.

E. Dehne, the pattern maker who was stricken with paralysis several weeks ago, has recovered sufficiently to resume his duties in the Pittsburg shops this morning.

There are many shopmen out after quail today, among the number being Charles A. Agster, of the electric works, who is one of the most enthusiastic of Nimrods.

B. F. Mason, of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton, a traveling passenger agent frequently seen in this city, has tendered his resignation to take effect immediately.

Tomorrow William Hille and Miss Carrie Ziegler will be married. The young man is a machinist and is employed at the Bass works. He has taken a two weeks' vacation.

Uncle Jimmy Hewes, foreman of the Pittsburg boiler shop, who has been suffering with rheumatism, is resting easier, though he has not been able to leave the house for several days.

William White, assistant foreman of the Pennsylvania company's Wellsville shops, is circulating among old friends in this city. A few years ago Mr. White was employed in the shops in this city.

Drs. C. B. Stemen, Miles F. Porter and W. H. Meyers will leave this evening for St. Louis, Mo., to attend the meeting of the Wabash railway surgeons, the program of which appeared in the Journal last week.

The new bridge on the Cincinnati division of the Big Four over the Whitewater was completed on Saturday, and on Sunday trains commenced running over it. The structure is of iron and 212 feet in length.

Peru Chronicle: "J. L. Head, claim agent of the Wabash railroad, is wearing a brand new suit which he won in a shooting contest at Fort Wayne. Mr. Head is one of the crack shots of this section of the country."

Extensive preparations are being made by the Wabash for the Lutheran excursion to Huntington next Sunday. Lutherans always turn out liberally on occasions of this character and the railway company expects to handle a big crowd.

C. F. Stahl, an employe of the Pittsburg, had one of his legs cut and bruised yesterday between two trucks. While the wound is painful and will disable Mr. Stahl for a time, he is thankful that he escaped more serious injury. He resides at No. [illegible] Martin street.

J. C. Masura, the well known Pittsburg shopman, has returned to his shop duties after a three or four weeks' stay in Michigan. He has leased his farm for three years and will devote his entire time to the shop during that term.

The Illinois Central will pay more attention to handling live stock shipped from southern points to the Chicago market, and is now having built by the Pullman company 200 stock cars. The Pullman company is also building two cafe cars on a new plan for this company, and seven new postal cars sixty feet in length, constructed on the most modern plan.

Nickel Plate engine No. [illegible], which had been hauling passenger trains Nos. [illegible] between this city and Bellevue, has gone to the Stony Island shops for light repairs and her place on the road is being filled by engine [illegible].

The fuel and [illegible] tests on the Nickel Plate continue. Yesterday an engine brought a train of thirty-three loaded gondolas down from Bellevue in seven hours. The tonnage of the train was between [illegible] and [illegible]. This is considered good time for so heavy a train.

John Sater, of the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, suggests as a part of the program for the corner stone laying the playing of the national anthem, "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," by the united bands who will be assembled here on that occasion. Such would, indeed, be appropriate and patriotic.

The ladies' auxiliary to the O. R. C., who will give an oyster supper and entertainment next Tuesday evening, is endeavoring to eclipse all previous events of a like nature, and with this end in view is sparing no pains nor expense in the arrangements. A very attractive program will be gotten up and carried out.

Frank Vachon and Frederick Nohrenberg are off duty, the former on account of sickness and the latter with a lame foot, which was injured by the damper of an ash pan falling upon it. F. Grossenbacher and Charles Hassenschild, who had been on the sick list, have reported for duty. All of these men are employed in the Pittsburg boiler shop.

President James McCrea, Vice President Joseph Wood, General Manager J. H. P. Hughart and several of the division officers of the Grand Rapids and Indiana, arrived in the city at 11 o'clock today, coming from Richmond. After a short stay here they left for Grand Rapids. The trip over the line is being made on a special train.

Findlay Republican: "Mrs. A. Strauss, wife of Traveling Auditor Strauss, of the Tangent Line; Mrs. J. Kenworth, wife of Stenographer Kenworth, in the auditor's office, and Mrs. J. F. Bartel, wife of Assistant General Freight and Passenger Agent Bartel, were in the city Monday in search of houses. They hope to move to this city next week."

The Pennsylvania company has just issued a dainty monogram of the "Pennsylvania Limited." It is unique in that it is illustrated by reproductions of photographs of actual scenes on a train which is making fifty miles an hour. Every phase of a passenger's life has been caught by a clever photographer, and the result is an interesting camera story of a trip from Chicago to New York.

INDIANA CHARITIES.

Annual Meeting of the State Conference in Evansville.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Nov. 9.—The state conference of Charities and Correction opened here at the Grand Opera house last night. Delegates were welcomed by Mayor Akin and John Gilbert Shanklin.

Responses were made by Father Gavisk, of Indianapolis; Judge Davis, of Terre Haute; Professor Fetter, of the State university, and Timothy Nicholson, of Richmond. The principal address was made by Governor Mount.

T. J. Charlton, superintendent of the reform school for boys, also made an address. E. P. Bicknell, of Indianapolis, outlined the work for the coming year. During Governor Mount's address he spoke of the great growth of the benevolent and penal institutions of Indiana, and further outlined his policy on their economical management.

The banks of the city will close at noon on Wednesday, November 17, on account of the ceremonies of laying the corner stone of the new court house.

Gardner will tell about his experiences, about the modes of living and how to reach the country. His talk will be illustrated with stereopticon views from photographs.

Women Need Not be Discouraged.

The nervous tension under which most of our women constantly live affects the female organism seriously. Heavy household burdens, social gayeties, work in some commercial establishment, any of these duties seem impossible to women who are ill and yet they keep up for a time under pressure of the demands upon them. When they do break down, the advice and treatment they receive from their family physician don't go to the root of the trouble and they get no better. They are discouraged, worn out, tired of life. The great specialist in women's diseases, Dr. Greene, of Nervura fame, has shown thousands of women who thought themselves hopeless invalids the way to health by his wonderful curative medicines. The office of Dr. Greene's remedies, 148 State street, Chicago, Ill., is open to all women for free consultation and advice, or if you will write about your case, advice will be given you by mail absolutely free of all cost and confidentially. The glorious remedies discovered by this profound physician are an invaluable boon to women. It costs nothing to be put on the road to health, and all ailing women should write at once.

WANT ALL THE LAND.

Waterworks Trustees Do Not Approve of Council's Action.

Street Railway Company Granted More Time to Provide Fenders—Other Municipal Business.

The common council met in regular session last evening. The first matter to come up was a petition from the Consolidated Street Railway company, asking for more time to provide fenders for cars. They were granted an extension to April 1, of next year.

The waterworks trustees, in a communication, said they differed with the council in the matter of purchasing land for waterworks purposes. They want all the land first considered for purchase, as the seven pieces selected will not be large enough to insure a supply. The communication was filed.

Councilmen Purcell and Schuler introduced a resolution in which they suggested that the mayor name a committee to look for a suitable location for the markets. The resolution was adopted and Mayor Scherer appointed Councilmen Purcell, Scheid and Mohr as the committee.

Councilman Mohr introduced a resolution to the effect that the committee on rules, regulation and ordinances be instructed to consider what is to go in the new franchise that is to be granted the gas company. The present franchise expires in about a year and Mr. Mohr stated that he thought it wise that the matter be given plenty of thought. The resolution was passed.

A communication was received from the comptroller, in which he stated that he had to get abstracts for the land that was bought by the city for waterworks purposes. This cost $107 and the comptroller suggested that it be paid by the waterworks department.

A resolution was introduced and passed to the effect that the waterworks department and the gas company be instructed to place their sidewalk plugs on a level with the sidewalks.

The turn to the right ordinance was read the second time and a motion was made by Councilman Purcell to table the ordinance, as there is already a state law to that effect. The motion was carried.

Of Interest to Fort Wayne Musicians.

The Fort Wayne Organ company has purchased the entire stock of small musical instruments and sheet music of the Fort Wayne Music company, and have engaged the services of Mr. Harry Achenbach to conduct a small goods and sheet music department at the retail store of the Packard Piano and Organ company, 120 Calhoun street, Schmitz block.

Their stock will be the largest and most complete in the city, consisting of Guitars, Mandolins, Violins, Music Boxes, Autoharps and Harmonicas, and, in fact, all small musical instruments and a complete catalogue of all standard music and instruction books, together with all new and popular hits as they appear. Of these we shall make a specialty.

Mr. Achenbach extends a cordial invitation to all his former patrons to visit him at his new quarters, and we trust the music-loving people of this vicinity will favor us with at least a share of their patronage.

Come in and examine our stock and compare our prices.
